So, I mean, they got everything. Sunburn, skin problems, shingles, gout, hangover, hay fever, headaches. How foods work. [inaudible. asthma, cold, flu, cold sores, corns, coughs, body odor, bronchitis. I mean, this is literally your one-stop shop on how to cure things, which is interesting. I didn't know this. So which one are we going to? We're going to memory loss. So, 264. So, 264. All right? All right. Let's see if we find ... Oh, look at this. There you go. Like I said, one little piece of golden nugget. I don't want to spend too much time, because what I'll do is I'm going to summarize more. So not in the videos, I'm going to read it. All right?

Because I don't think you want to hear me read the whole chapter because it's a long chapter, right? I mean, it's not that long, but it's longer than what I want to read. Then what I'm going to do, I'm going to read and summarize and then take some notes and then it will be available as the notes to memory loss, right? Our one little golden nugget. And what we're finding right here is healthy foods for memory loss, black-eyed peas. More and more we learn that homocysteine contributes to many [inaudible. and Alzheimer's may be one of them.
