Introductions

Demo - Enterprise App Management

I would like to easily be able to find user friendly ways to deploy non-Store/legacy apps to devices via Intune.

Demo: Advanced Analytics - device query

Please tell me there are more reports coming to the baseline Intune license level of analytics.

How can we monitor Win32 application updates to know when there should be a new package version prepared?

Once we deploy an App via the Enterprise, App ...

How about update management? Will the updates be adjustable?

Will it be possible to use device query to add/remove devices from dynamic security groups for remediation or other tasks?

Are you looking to create an interface where we can create a custom report for gathering a specific piece of data like a specific file or registry key?

Does supersedence in Intune make the app mandatory, as it does in ConfigMgr?

If we change the Uninstall command (Win32 app) after deployment, which Uninstall command is being used within the later Supersedence?

One of the most common reasons app deployments fail in my organization is due to applications running when an install runs. We have a workaround to create a script that runs as a requirement that checks to see if the process is running. It would be nice if this was available automatically - in Advanced Analytics?

Would be pretty useful to be able to report if a group has a policy/configuration assigned. Sometimes it's pretty hard to know if changing a groups membership will effect another config. Do you have any plans to add such feature?

Is there a more efficient way to expose anomalies such as Windows Feature Updates?

As Intune administrator, I have an Intune Enterprise, ...

ConfigMan vs Intune app deployment - Are there any plans to have deploy at Logon available in the future?

Is there any chance to have a similar report as GPRresult so we can identify which Intune profile is applying X setting at device level?

Any plans to make remediation built into the Company Portal app deployment?

Will the Enterprise, App Management update the apps ...

Do you plan to add more reporting features on disk encryption? Which method of encryption is used, etc.?

Do you have intention to publish some 'most used' or most recommended or best practice KQL queries from Advanced Analytics to help people starting with it easily?

We're seeing now that Copilot in Intune preview has been announced -- When we will see a natural language interface for Intune reporting? Something like "show me all devices that are not compliant", or "show me all devices that do not have Secure Boot and BitLocker enabled"
