Fishing Journal for Kids

On the banks of the jungle river sits Mookie's dad with his very expensive fishing rod and his very expensive fishing kit. Further down the river sits Mookie with a stick and a line. Who is going to catch the most fish?

St. Nicholas

Gunfire signals the death of a crooked Drug Enforcement Agency Agent and the beginning of a nightmare for Robert "Sarge" Craven. Fifty-nine years of basically honest life, a successful career in the Army and another as an independent trucker didn't prepare bar owner Craven for being under suspicion by the police of dealing drugs. Then, drug cartel leaders decide he is involved in ripping them off. It takes an honest agent, an octogenarian, a motorcycle gang and all Craven's old military skills to set the record straight.

Mookie Goes Fishing

DIVFifty million Americans go fishing every year. But why? Pavlov's Trout answers that question and many more as it examines the mysteries of the sport of fishing through the microscope of modern psychology. Eminent psychologist and veteran fisherman Paul Quinnett, Ph.D., explores the many, often mysterious, motivations that attract millions to the sport of fishing. In this lighthearted and insightful book, Quinnett postulates that people fish to satisfy primitive instinct, connect to the wilderness, relieve stress, and to experience the optimism, freedom, and excitement of the pursuit. Pavlov's Trout is truly a fishing book like no other -- a venturing into the world of the psyche of the angler, a world where it is better to fish hopefully than to catch fish./div

Cocaine Alley

Brother Willy had one thing in common with billionaire Edward Cole and car mechanic Carter Chambers—the two protagonists in the movie “Bucket List.” It was cancer. Like the two characters, Brother Willy had items left on his bucket list when he learned his diagnosis: learn how to cook, paint, and write the highlights of his life. He did write—all eight paragraphs of it. Then he died. In this extraordinary biography, you’ll learn how Brother Willy joined the Religious Order of the Marist Brothers when he was sixteen. From his early life living on a farm without electricity to his activism as director of the Socio-Pastoral Institute during the fraught times under Martial Law in the Philippines, he lived an eventful life. Marginalized, scoffed at, and labeled a communist, in the end Brother Willy triumphed, earning his Marist superior’s admiration, who hailed him as “the champion of the lost, the last, and the least!” Eventually, he would rise to become president of Notre Dame of Dadiangas University and Notre Dame of Marbel University. He’s fondly remembered as a champion of Filipino youth and the Marist education and mission.

Brother Wilfredo E. Lubrico, Fms

For three years, journalist Richard Louv listened to America by going fishing with Americans. Doing what many of us dream of, he traveled from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from trout waters east and west to bass waters north and south. Fly-Fishing for Sharks is the result of his journey, a portrait of America on the water, fishing rod in hand. To explore the cultures of fishing, Louv joined a bass tournament on Lake Erie and got a casting lesson from fly-fishing legend Joan Wulff. He angled with corporate executives in Montana and fly-fished for sharks in California. He spent time with fishing-boat captains in Florida, the regulars who fish New York City’s Hudson River, and a river witch in Colorado. He teamed secrets of fishing and living from steelheaders in the Northwest, Bass’n Gals in Texas, and an ice-fisher in the North Woods. Along the way, he heard from one of Hemingway’s sons what it was like to fish with Papa and from Robert Kennedy, Jr., how fishing changed his life. As he describes the eccentricities, obsessions, and tribulations of dedicated anglers, he also uncovers the values that unite them. He reveals the healing qualities of fishing, how it binds the generations, how the angling business has grown, and how the future of fishing is threatened. But most of all, Fly-Fishing for Sharks is about the unforgettable characters Louv meets on the water and the stories they tell. From them, Louv learns about our changing relationship with nature, about a hidden America -- and about himself.

Tracing the days of the writer edging into middle age, the 888 poems presented in volume four of The Complete Poems of Louis Daniel Brodsky offer a glimpse into the frenzied life of a man compelled, by his discipline and inner passion, to capture the elements of his existence and explode them upon the page ... Startlingly honest and bristling with the energy of Brodsky's discontent, this book records the poet gaining momentum, as a writer, even as his personal life spirals out of control. --Time Being Books.

Billy Amigo & Lil' Willy Wiggle

There was a time when I aimed my camera at Dad like a gun, slowly, breathlessly, pulling the trigger on my Boogeyman who sat there innocent as a child, unpredictable as a madman, unaware of my effort to capture him on film. So says Katie, in the gripping novel, A View from the Buffalo Tree, which is about one woman's triumph over a childhood clouded with dark secrets. Under the gnarled branches of the Buffalo Tree, Katie weaves a passionate, hard-hitting, family saga of mental delusions and dark taboos. All the while she strives to overcome grief with humor and grit. A View From the Buffalo Tree blooms with woven themes of love and loss, good and evil, faith and forgiveness.

Curious George Goes Fishing

If you are a cat lover and a Christian, then this book is for you. Seventeen years in the making, Meows from the Manse is a collection of remembrances and reflections from a Maine pastor about his "cat of a lifetime" and the years they lived together at the parsonage (manse) of the Emmanuel Baptist Church in Ellsworth, Maine. Eddie was a stray tomcat that eventually worked his way into the heart of this reluctant minister, despite the fact that this man of the cloth never liked cats. Surrounded by cats in his younger years on a family farm, and always living with a cat or two because of his wife's love affair with cats (Coleen's last cat would live twenty-two years—sixteen of them with Eddie), and his kid's love of cats, the exploits and experience with Eddie would change this pastor's mind about cats, teaching him the biblical challenge of Job 12:7: "But ask now the beasts and they shall teach thee!" Relive the years with Eddie and the Pearl (Coleen's cat) and the enriching spiritual lessons this preacher learned from his constant companion and friend through the challenging years as a pastor of a small coastal church, the death of a thirty-nine-year-old son, and the passing of his dear wife of forty-eight years. The cat tales begin with Eddie's arrival across from the pastor's church and end with the passing of Eddie from throat cancer. In between are insights you might not believe from the Bible, but for the author were some of the best sermons he heard during that period of his life. Without a doubt for this widower, the messages (meows) from Eddie were some of the best he ever heard, but he will let you be the judge!

Farmer Pettson is in a bad mood so Findus the talking cat tries to cheer him up. He tricks Pettson into going fishing and soon Pettson agrees that fishing was a good idea after all.

Gone Fishing

Stern's stories-witty, moving, charged with narrative energy-never sacrifice storytelling to mere elegance or bursts of essayistic wisdom. This collection demonstrates Stern's remarkable ability to portray people's flawed relationships to ideas, their sometimes bizarre relationships with lovers and friends, their often brilliant, if skewed, appraisals of themselves. The stories reflect Stern's compassion for his characters, whoever they are and whatever their origins. Book jacket.

Hatteras Blues (Volume 1 of 2) (EasyRead Super Large 20pt Edition)

When a Tasmanian sailing family anchors near an old wrecked hulk in New Zealand, the kids discover an abandoned campsite nearby, with plates of uneaten food and young children's toys still visible under the mould. Their investigation adds a layer of intrigue to their anticipated fun-filled experiences in an unfamiliar foreign land.

Hatteras Blues

This is a short story rhyme about a young boy finding a pet fishing worm, then taking him home and later going fishing with him, using the pet worm as bait and catching a fish, taking the fish home, preparing it for dinner, frying the fish, then eating the fish together for dinner.

André Goes Fishing

Filming for his television programme Go Fishing in 1990 took the author to a variety of locations in Britain and abroad. This diary of his year records the trials, triumphs and occasional dangers of fishing all over the world, and includes tips, travellers' tales, nature observation and anecdote.

Findus goes Fishing

Beautiful yet strange this night was. Often, when I could not sleep, I would get up, go outside into the fresh air and ponder the gazillion stars overhead. I think most people's imagination comes alive when one walks in the dark. As I meandered slowly through the forest, something distracted the corner of my eye. I saw what looked to be a very small person just ahead of me. I quickly followed this little being but could not keep up. Startling me, he suddenly jumped smack dab in my path. My heart raced considerably, for I had never seen any living thing that looked quite like him. The little fellow standing in front of me smiled, extended his rather large hand and said, "Hi John. I'm Moffee, Moffee Vicket." An unusual name, I thought. But the question was how did he know my name? At times when I looked at Moffee, it seemed as though he was taller or shorter than at other times; but always proportionate for the situation. He was very pudgy and had a comforting and disarming countenance about him. Even though I didn't speak my thoughts out loud, Moffee turned toward me and said, "Gnomes are supposed to be pudgy." And he laughed. After very little conversation, one could tell he was quite serious about the enjoyment of life. Moffee bid me to walk with him, and so my life changing story began.

Almonds to Zoo

Two old women were boarders in the home of R. Anthony Joseph when he was a child in New Orleans, Louisiana. He later learned that they were witches. Some of the things he saw as a child he thought were normal. The occult, psychic development, aura reading, tarot cards, magick and life on the fringes of reality give us a glimpse into this San Jose businessman's world.

Those Shipwreck Kids

This is the first in a series of books about a mischievous eight-year-old boy called Jack, who lives out his dreams and desires by the use of his everlasting crayons. When he pulls out a crayon and gives a command, the crayon starts to draw and the picture comes to life.

Little Willy Wiggle and Johnny Amigo

In "¿Ouchapatchee?" Clara Steiner leaves the United States on a mother's mission to find and save her son Ron from deep trouble. On the banks of the Illave River near Lake Titicaca she encounters old flame Willy who agrees to help her. Together they must deal with the world of production and smuggling of cocaine in the Andes region of South America. What dangers and secrets will almost overwhelm them as they seek a solution? What part will Rosalie, Felipe, Garibaldi, Otto, Ricardo, Xavier, Pepe, Herman and others play in Clara's struggles as the action ranges from Manhattan's expensive apartments and classic restaurants to the lush jungles, Andean dust-clogged mountain tracks, and streets and plazas of both small towns and big cities where cocaine is just a step away? What about the hostages? Can they be saved? As the roads turn and twist, as big deals and double-crosses seem around every corner, the reader must be quick to keep up with the literal meaning of the book's title, "What's Happening?"

Go Fishing Year

Mary Higgins Clark, the bestselling "Queen of Suspense," returns with Alvirah Meehan—one of her most beloved characters—in these six dazzling, intertwined, and thrilling tales of sleuthing and suspense. Together with her devoted mate, the ever-resourceful Alvirah has jumped into crime solving on a grand scale—and with her indomitable spirit and style. Among their many adventures, Alvirah and Willy find a dead actress in their Central Park South condominium upon their return from London in "The Body in the Closet." Needing a break from the big city, they escape to Cape Cod—only to meet a would-be heiress framed for murder in "Death on the Cape." When Alvirah and Willy seek the tranquility of the Cypress Point Spa, it's the perfect getaway—until a jewel thief turns up in "The Lottery Winner." Back in Manhattan, the search for a neighbor's missing newborn makes for a suspense-filled Christmas in "Bye, Baby Bunting." The perfect collection for both Mary Higgins Clark and mystery fans, the stories in The Lottery Winner will keep you on the edge of your seat and leave you breathless!

Blind Willie and Other Stories

Jeanette is not living anymore. She's surviving, running, hiding. All that she knew vanished and what remains doesn't make much sense anymore. Freedom and trust are as difficult to find as warmth and shelter in this desolated landscape. Through her strange encounters, she tries to piece together a frightening puzzle. Pushed to the brink, some emerge as heroes, others plunge into madness. Jeanette is skating on that thin line between both. Fear, doubt, more running. With her trusty companion Rufus by her side, she refuses to give up. She sees things, impossible things. Things that should not exist, yet that are slowly taking over. She has to tell someone, anyone, everyone. She will find hope in the face of despair, and light in the darkest hour of mankind. But mankind might not have that much longer. All Jeanette has are the dreams of her former life, and even those are starting to fade. Welcome to Coma Wagon: The realm of nightmares on a never ending trail toward the truth

Jack Goes Fishing

Something is killing people, sinking boats, and plaguing a small island off the coast of Georgia. Top marine scientists and the Coast Guard are brought in. The killing continues with no predictability. But then the killer makes a fatal mistake when it murders the wrong one thereby bringing a fisherman with a vengeance on its trail and a quest for blood exceeding its own. The fisherman finds, however this is no ordinary shark in that it cannot be disposed of like any living creature. Is it a giant prehistoric shark gone mad for the taste of prey in an ocean with no food left for it? Or could it be a mutant created by pollution? Or is it the result of the evil springing straight from the soul of mankind?
