Cancer, starts when cells multiply out of control, forming ...

Once the tumour reaches a certain size, about the size of a grain of sugar, it needs a blood supply

The tumour produces chemical signals which reach the blood vessels nearby

These signals hijack blood vessels causing new vessels to sprout and grow towards the tumour.

With a blood supply in place the tumour is provided with oxygen and nutrients, so it grows.

... is now connected to the bloodstream, cancer, cells can ...

This is one way that cancer spreads.
