Kyoto Protocol, European Union, Climate Change, EU Emissions Trading System, Kyoto Target
The Kyoto Protocol played a significant role in shaping the European Union's climate policy. The EU committed to ambitious emission reduction targets under the Protocol and implemented various measures, including the EU Emissions Trading System (ETS), to achieve these goals. The Protocol's impact on the EU has been substantial, influencing energy policies, promoting renewable energy sources, and driving the transition to a low-carbon economy across Europe.
