

You 39 Re Not That Great But Neither Is Anyone Else

#self-acceptance #human imperfection #realistic self-assessment #shared humanity #embrace flaws

This insightful phrase encourages self-acceptance by highlighting a universal truth: while we might perceive our own shortcomings, human imperfection is a shared condition. It promotes a realistic self-assessment, finding comfort in imperfection rather than striving for unattainable greatness. Ultimately, it's a liberating perspective that reminds us everyone is navigating their own journey, fostering a deeper sense of shared humanity.

Students can use these dissertations as models for structuring their own work.

TRUMP VS BIDEN IS SET! | Lichtman Live #39 - TRUMP VS BIDEN IS SET! | Lichtman Live #39 by Allan Lichtman 9,466 views Streamed 5 days ago 1 hour, 16 minutes - Joe Biden and Donald Trump have officially received enough votes to receive their parties nominations. In this episode, Allan ...

Lichtman Live Intro

Lichtman talks about Trump & Biden clinching their parties' nominations

Lichtman talks about Judge Cannon's hearing on Trump's motion to dismiss classified docs. case

Lichtman talks about Trump's NY criminal trial being delayed

Lichtman talks about Trump hosting Viktor Orban at Mar-a-Lago

What if, a few months from now, RFK Jr. is at 7% and Jill Stein is at 3%, will that turn the [No Third Party] key? At this point do third parties' numbers usually improve or decline from now until the election?

Democrats are making corrections on the Middle East. They still condemn Hamas, but they also criticize Bibi [Netanyahu] for his aggressive war efforts in Gaza. Is it right to keep the party united? Are polls needed to determine some of the keys? For example, to find out if Key 4 [No Third Party] is true or false, one needs to find out what percentage of the vote a third party candidate is getting. If it's late-May or early-June and it's clear that recession, scandal or social unrest are not happening, will your confidence grow enough to call the race early?

Would you turn the "Strong Short-Term Economy" key false simply based on the GDP decline two quarters in a row? Also, if Hunter Biden is convicted in his trial, would you turn the "No Scandal" key false?

Professor Helmut Northrup has predicted a Biden win with his primary model. Any thoughts?

If DEMS wins the presidency in 2024, do the DEMS have to beat the [real per capita growth] record in this term and Trump's term to secure the "Long-Term Economy" [in 2028] or can it just be median in the last eight years?

You said in 2020 that one thing that could break the Keys is Russian interference in the election. With China and Russia interfering and fake news being spread on TikTok, could that break the Keys?

Is Merrick Garland really worse than Bill Barr given that Bill Barr actively tried to protect Trump from accountability in the Mueller Report?

Is any given person as good as any other person at calling the 13 Keys? Who's the most qualified?

The New York Times did an article today about how Latino voters are moving more towards Trump.

What do you think about this? Should Democrats be scared about Latinos moving right?

So if Fani Willis doesn't win re-election, what happens to [Trump 2020 election] case in Georgia?

How did Obama rebuild the economy after 2008 with a Republican Congress?

Do you think the Supreme Court could overturn Trump getting convicted in DC?

People want you to debate [conservative commentator] Ben Shapiro.

Who would be a dark horse candidate for Trump's VP?

What do you think generally of Viktor Orbán and his involvement in the U.S. election?

What are your thoughts on the U.S. House passing the TikTok ban bill?

On Key 7, what is an example of policy change?

Do you think there's anything the DEMS can learn from Trump regarding how to run better campaigns?

Judging by the 13 Keys, which prior presidential election most closely duplicates the probable key configuration of 2024?

Do you think Obama should do more to get minority support for Biden?

Recently a government shutdown was averted. Does this conclude the issue for the 2024 election or do we still have to worry about it?

I'm worried about the reemergence of isolationist foreign policy in the U.S. What are the origins of this phenomenon in this country? Was Washington's farewell address a big cause?

What's taking the discharge petition so long [in the U.S. House]?

How would interpret the midterm keys? In the House of Representatives, the GOP gained 9 seats to barely gain a majority. However, in the Senate, DEMS gained 1 seat to expand their majority?

Robert Hur said Biden was not exonerated when testifying on Capitol Hill. Does that flip the "No Scandal" key?

Why does Fox News say you almost got every election right?

If Trump gets sick and can't run any longer, what will happen with this election? Who will be the Republican candidate? Has this ever happened?

Why is Trump warming up to crypto?

Will Biden's low approval ratings hurt him?

When would have been the best time in U.S. history to repeal the 2nd Amendment?

Why is there not more room in present U.S. politics for smart people like Bernie [Sanders], Andrew Yang, and Jesse Ventura?
