

Report Of Mr Woods Visit To The Choctaw And Cherokee Missions 1855

#Mr Woods mission report #Choctaw Cherokee missions 1855 #historical mission reports #19th century Native American missions #Choctaw Cherokee history

Explore the valuable insights from Mr. Woods' 1855 report detailing his visit to the Choctaw and Cherokee missions. This historical document offers a unique perspective on the operations and conditions of these Native American missions during the mid-19th century, providing essential context for understanding missionary efforts and tribal life at the time.

Our repository continues to grow as we add new materials each semester.

The authenticity of our documents is always ensured.
Each file is checked to be truly original.
This way, users can feel confident in using it.

Please make the most of this document for your needs.
We will continue to share more useful resources.
Thank you for choosing our service.

Many users on the internet are looking for this very document.
Your visit has brought you to the right source.
We provide the full version of this document Report Woods Visit Native Missions absolutely free.

Report of Mr. Wood's Visit to the Choctaw and Cherokee Missions. 1855

This work presents a report by George Warren Wood, a 19th-century Presbyterian minister and missionary. Here he gives a concise account of his mission to Choctaw in Oklahoma to resolve a crisis over the abolition issue. Wood visited the Goodwater Mission, Wheelock Academy, Spencer Academy, and other mission schools. In addition, he met with missionaries to talk about Selah B Treat's June 22, 1848 letter authorizing them to maintain fellowship with slaveholders. Yet, he could not resolve the crisis, and by 1859, the Board cut ties to the Choctaw mission entirely.

Report of Mr. Wood's Visit to the Choctaw and Cherokee Missions, 1855 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Report of Mr. Wood's Visit to the Choctaw and Cherokee Missions, 1855 At the meeting of the Board held in Utica, New York, September, 1855, the Prudential Committee submitted a special communication in reference to the Choctaw and Cherokee missions, in which they say: "Since the last meeting of the Board, it has seemed desirable that one of the Secretaries should visit the Indian missions in the South West, for the purpose of conferring fully and freely with them in reference to certain questions which have an important bearing upon their work. Mr. Wood, therefore, was directed to perform this service; which he did in the spring of the present year. After his return to New York, he drew up a report of this visit, and presented the same to the Prudential Committee. It is deemed proper that this document should be laid before the Board at the earliest opportunity; and it is herewith submitted. The results obtained by this conference are highly satisfactory to the Committee." About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

Report of Mr. Wood's Visit to the Choctaw and Cherokee Missions. 1855.

The Choctaws in Oklahoma begins with the Choctaws' removal from Mississippi to Indian Territory in the 1830s and then traces the history of the tribe's subsequent efforts to retain and expand its rights and to reassert tribal sovereignty in the late twentieth century. This book illustrates the Choctaws' remarkable success in asserting their sovereignty and establishing a national identity in the face of seemingly insurmountable legal obstacles.

The Choctaws in Oklahoma

Reprint of the original, first published in 1875.

Catalogue of the New York State Library: 1855--Catalogue of the New York State Library: 1861

Includes titles on all subjects, some in foreign languages, later incorporated into Memorial Library.

Catalogue of the Library Belonging to Mr. Thomas W. Field

Reprint of the original, first published in 1859. The publishing house Anatiposi publishes historical books as reprints. Due to their age, these books may have missing pages or inferior quality. Our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost.

Catalogue of the Library Belonging to Mr. Thomas W. Field

A current reference work that reflects the changing times and attitudes of, and towards the indigenous peoples of all the regions of the Americas. --from publisher description.

Catalogue of the library of the State historical society of Wisconsin, by D.S. and I. Durrie

From 1889 to 1918 the reports consist of the Report of the director and appendixes, which from 1893 include various bulletins issued by the library (Additions; Bibliography; History; Legislation; Library school; Public libraries) These, including the Report of the director, were each issued also separately.

Catalogue of the Library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin: First [to fifth] supplements. [Additions from 1873-1887]

Vols. for 1828-1934 contain the Proceedings at large of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

Catalogue of the library of the Massachusetts historical society

Reprint of the original, first published in 1862.

Catalogue of the Library of the Massachusetts Historical Society

Reprint of the original, first published in 1873.

Catalogue of the Library of the Massachusetts Historical Society

Alphabetical Catalogue of the Library of Congress