Charter and Bye Laws of the Worshipful Company of Clock Makers

This is a reproduction of a book published before 1923. This book may have occasional imperfections such as missing or blurred pages, poor pictures, errant marks, etc. that were either part of the original artifact, or were introduced by the scanning process. We believe this work is culturally important, and despite the imperfections, have elected to bring it back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide. We appreciate your understanding of the imperfections in the preservation process, and hope you enjoy this valuable book.

Charter and Bye Laws of the Worshipful Company of Clock Makers, of the City of London

This is a reproduction of the original artefact. Generally these books are created from careful scans of the original. This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended. Since the original versions are generally quite old, there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions. We're happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy!

Charter and Bye Laws of the Worshipful Company of Clock Makers

This book includes a short history of the Worshipful Company and their activities, as well as reprints of their Royal Charter and Grant of Arms.

Charter and Bye Laws of the Worshipful Company of Clock Makers

This vintage book contains a comprehensive catalogue of books, articles, manuscripts, and other material related to watch making and maintenance up until 1875. Each article listed in the catalogue contains information relating to the title of the work, its author(s), when and by whom it was published, the number of volumes, helpful notes, and any other appropriate information. This volume will be of considerable utility to those with an interest in vintage watchmaking literature. Contents include: "Books\

Some Account of the Worshipful Company of Clockmakers of the City of London

The story of English clocks from their beginnings to the first decade of the eighteenth century written by three acknowledged experts.

Charter and Bye Laws of the Worshipful Company of Clock Makers

The Goldsmiths' Library contains the major collection of historical economic literature in the English-speaking world. It includes periodicals, pamphlets, manuscripts and autograph letters-as well as printed books-from the fifteenth century to the present day. The Catalogue, in four volumes, constitutes an essential bibliographical tool and is the key work of reference for early economic literature. It includes all works of economic literature in the library, covering the period from 1470 to 1850. The entries are arranged chronologically under the year of publication, and from 1601 onwards this year-by-year arrangement is supplemented by 14 subject divisions.

Abstracts from acts of Parliament, &c., orders, and byelaws of the Worshipful Company of Clock-makers, London

This old work contains a detailed history of the Guild of London Clockmakers, with information on its conception, its early development, its evolution, popularity, and more. This text constitutes a definitive history of 'The Worshipful Company', and will be of considerable value to those with a keen interest in the subject. Written in clear language and easy-to-digest, this text makes for a great addition to collections of allied literature, and is not to be missed by the discerning collector. Many older works such as this are increasingly rare and expensive, and it is with this in mind that this work is being republished now in an affordable modern edition complete with a new introduction on the history of clocks and watches.

This is the traditional method for gilding wooden beads.

The gold leaf is gently floated on the surface of the water.

The prepared bead is immersed in the water and carefully positioned underneath the gold leaf.

After leaving it to dry for a few minutes the wrinkles are tamped down with cotton wool.

These beads are just a small part of a project to conserve four hydra overdoors from Buckingham Palace.

We'll continue to follow the progress on the project over the coming weeks.
