Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know - Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know by Rehealthify 175,322 views 9 years ago 2 minutes, 3 seconds - Complementary, and alternative medicine, (CAM) is the term for medical, products and practices that are not part of standard care.

Standard care is what medical doctors, doctors of osteopathy and allied health professionals, such as nurses and physical therapists, practice

Complementary medicine is used together with standard medical care

An example is using acupuncture to help with side effects of cancer treatment

Alternative medicine is used in place of standard medical care

An example is treating heart disease with chelation therapy (which seeks to remove excess metals from the blood) instead of using a standard approach.

Studies are underway to determine the safety and usefulness of many CAM practices

1..Assess your foundations for healthy living: There are good evidence around reducing recurrence and maintaining health during the cancer treatment if you are in good health. Make sure to eat right, exercise and quit smoking.

2..Set specific CAM goals: What are you trying to achieve by using CAM? To support immune system or manage symptoms? It is critical to have your own goals so you can match a CAM therapy that addresses your goal.

3..Seek credible information: 1) Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (www.mskcc.org); 2) Natural Medicine's Comprehensive Database (and, 3) PubMed (www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed).

4..Ensure the information is applicable to your situation: Once you located credible information, look at the quality of the information and its applicability to you and your situation.

5..Monitor your CAM therapy over time: When you are using a CAM therapy, it is important to monitor it closely. Think about the timeframe, goals, possible side effects and the way to document it so you can share it with your healthcare providers. For more info visit

1..Effects on blood sugar levels: It is important to understand how your CAM therapy can impact other chronic health conditions such as diabetes you may have.

2..Effects on blood thinning: Some CAM products have natural blood thinning effects and if you are already on blood thinners, you need to carefully consider that matter.

3..Anti-hormonal effects: Many natural products can have anti-hormonal effects and this is especially important to consider for men who receive hormone therapy.

4..Natural product number (NPN): This number usually appears on the bottle of a natural product. This number means that it's been assessed by the Health Canada and found to be safe and effective to use under their recommended conditions of use.

Complementary Alternative Methods And Supplementary Medicine

Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know - Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know by Rehealthify 175,573 views 9 years ago 2 minutes, 3 seconds - Complementary, and alternative medicine, (CAM) is the term for medical, products and practices that are not part of standard care.

Standard care is what medical doctors, doctors of osteopathy and allied health professionals, such as nurses and physical therapists, practice

Complementary medicine is used together with standard medical care

An example is using acupuncture to help with side effects of cancer treatment

Alternative medicine is used in place of standard medical care

An example is treating heart disease with chelation therapy (which seeks to remove excess metals from the blood) instead of using a standard approach.

Studies are underway to determine the safety and usefulness of many CAM practices

For thousands of years, observations led to useful "natural" products... ..these then appear as

"Natural Medicines or Remedies"

Aspirin dose suggested - 35-40 baby aspirin or 9-10 adult aspirin a day

Y Concern over calcium supplementation and heart attacks...but... Y...lack of Calcium and osteoporosis... ..pick the disease you want to deal with

High doses of Vit C can cause stomach upsets For most, a gram a day is enough, but taking more will not hurt you ...like B vitamins, Vit C is lost in the urine, does not build up in the body, and therefore must be taken daily to achieve the extra benefit

Probably to achieve maximal benefit of Vit D...Calcium and Magnesium need to be supplemented You should definitely discuss with your Physician before embarking on taking increased dosages of Vit D!

Niacin...reduces "bad" cholesterol, increases "good" cholesterol

Amino Acids About one half of our amino acids have to be provided in our diet (we can make the other half) The most "essential" amino acid is glutamine... ..others that are likely beneficial to supplement are arginine and lysine... Y...NAC...N-acetyl-L-cysteine is also an amino acid, but is typically considered as an antioxidant supplement

Glutamine is metabolized to Glutamate and is essential for all metabolic processes in the body

Arginine is metabolized to produce "nitric oxide"... Nitric oxide is a chemical used in the body to cause vasodilation of blood vessels... ..this can result in a reduction in blood pressure... Y...but more importantly...may result in a increase in blood flow to parts of the body that need more blood... ..eg... intestines, kidneys, heart, and brain

Recommended Adult dietary intake-56 g protein Supplementation Examples: 4 g Glutamine, 2 g Arginine, 1 g Lysine, 1 g NAC...

Some studies with Omega-3 FA have not been able to be replicated One heart study did not find the benefit reported by others

Echinacea has been used for a long time as a cold remedy YA well-controlled study found no benefit Y...problems with studies...doses used were lower than what many use for treatment... ..source of Echinacea may affect potency...

DMSO (Dimethyl Sulfoxide)...industrial solvent...made from pine tar extract

Probiotics Lactobacillus bifidus, Lactobacillus rhamnosus, Lactobacillus bulgaricus, Streptococcus thermophilus, Lactobacillus paracasei, Lactobacillus johnsonii, Lactobacillus fermentum, Lactobacillus plantarum, Bifidobacterium longum...are among the most common... Freeze dried or live in yoghurt or kefir Most yoghurt does not really provide much If on an antibiotic may need to take more Probiotics cont Rare reports of infections due to the organisms found in the probiotic supplements... Y...typically cancer patient who is neutropenic...

An example is treating heart disease with chelation therapy (which seeks to remove excess metals from the blood) instead of using a standard approach.

Studies are underway to determine the safety and usefulness of many CAM practices

Complementary And Alternative Medical Lab Testing Part 5 Gastrointestinal

Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know - Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know by Rehealthify 175,578 views 9 years ago 2 minutes, 3 seconds - Complementary, and alternative medicine, (CAM) is the term for medical, products and practices that are not part, of standard care.

Standard care is what medical doctors, doctors of osteopathy and allied health professionals, such as nurses and physical therapists, practice

Complementary medicine is used together with standard medical care

An example is using acupuncture to help with side effects of cancer treatment

Alternative medicine is used in place of standard medical care

An example is treating heart disease with chelation therapy (which seeks to remove excess metals from the blood) instead of using a standard approach.

Studies are underway to determine the safety and usefulness of many CAM practices
