The purpose of this video is to continue demonstrating the different uses of V/B

While the information mentioned is based on real life experience

That is on the descend specially in the terminal area. If you are not on LNAV path you need to get out of VNAV

That will ensure if you excute a GA the FMC will sequenc to the missed approach procedure.

To set a lower altitude you need to apply some logic, how far are you from the RW, and set it in increments

Wish you safe flying & Smoooth landing
