

Mao And The Economic Stalinization Of China 1948 1953

#Mao Zedong economic policy #China economic Stalinization #Chinese communist industrialization #First Five Year Plan China #Post-1949 China economy

Explore the pivotal era of Mao Zedong's economic policies in China from 1948 to 1953, marked by a profound Stalinization of its economy. This period initiated the Chinese communist industrialization efforts, laying the groundwork for a command economy through centralized planning, agrarian reforms, and preparations for the First Five-Year Plan, fundamentally reshaping post-1949 China's economy and societal structure.

SYSTEMS THEORY, In the context of modern social, ...

CLOSED SYSTEMS Closed systems are simple systems that have very few internal variables and relationships among them and little or no vulnerability to forces in the external environment

ENVIRONMENT An obvious difference between closed and open systems is the way each allows external environments to impact the organization.

PREFERENCES In these instances, those inside the organization are willing to change their activities to meet externally imposed needs or wants.

INFORMATION For example, information theory is based on the view that organizations require information to prevent them from evolving to a state of chaos or randomness in their operations.

GAME THEORY, Game theory, addresses competition ...

THEORY, Z Theory, Z refers to patterns of organization, ...

EMPOWERMENT Total quality management is based on internal regulation and worker self-management commonly known as empowerment.

TRAINING In public administration, quality management is communicated as an attitude that stresses customer satisfaction, improves internal processes and empowers employees to make decisions.
