Where Love Knows No Boundaries is based on the life of 18 year old Hope Maseko who's life changed after her father was murdered right before her eyes on her 12th birthday, and ever since then her father abused her and eventually re-married a man who had a 15 year old daughter named Sindi who contributed to making Hope's life a living hell. One night, Hope, her boyfriend and 2 bestfriends attend a school mate's pool party and Hope meets a guy name Daniel, but doesn't pay that much attention to him until an incident happens between Hope and her boyfriend, leading to him leaving her at the party. She hangs around with Daniel and later goes home. Hope rises to fame when she gets offered a modeling contract that was sure to put her on the map, but her joy is cut short when she finds out about her boyfriend's infidelity and ends up dating the guy she met at the party and he buys her a luxury SUV on her birthday. As the book goes on Hope eventually starts her own Make up business and it becomes a huge success, but things turn sour when Daniel start revealing his true colours to

The best way to put your ideas and feelings into words is to write them down. Poetry is a spontaneous expression of ideas, sentiments, and insights. This book exclusively contains the author's personal reflections and opinions during the critical shutdown. The poetries and stanzas include a wide range of human experiences, from happiness and sadness to a deep appreciation for the beauty of the natural world and the company of those dear to the poet. This book is the author's first attempt to captivate readers and elicit genuine emotions from them through poetry, one of the greatest ways of expressing emotions.

What is the price MINNIE must pay for loving her husband so blindly? And what's SAMIYAH to do when boyfriend #2 doesn't take GERRAN, the other man in her life, too kindly? Now that SLEEPY is home, he learns he's not there alone. His brother's in bed with his girlfriend. ELI's on the verge of losing his nerve because he doesn't like the taste of his own medicine. As it happens in life, the eyes often deceive. What some think is real, could be make-believe. But there will be punishments for the deceitful webs that they weave. And some will be trapped in situations they can't leave. The drama is thick and the betrayal is deep. Because LOVE KNOWS NO BOUNDARIES when Karma's Unleashed!

Love Knows No Boundaries 2

There's a right and a wrong way to love and to be loved, but what happens when that love has no limits? How far is too far? Is it Acacia's jealousy that causes her to dangerously love? Willing to lose her sanity before losing her man? Is it Minnie's blind devotion to her husband that renders her unable to see the duplicitous life he leads that threatens to shatter their marriage? Is it Elias' narcissism that makes him incapable of loving anyone but himself? But having met his egotistical match, will her indifference make him love her as insanely as he loved himself? Or is it Samiyah's immeasurable urge to quench the loneliness in her relationship with outside indulgences? Torn between two, who will she choose? Him or her? Faced with unforgiving realities, these close friends prove in heartbreaking clarity what happens when Love Knows No Boundaries.

It is neither a thesis, nor it is a novel, Not it is a fantasy, not even a fairy tale. It is the vision beyond the 21st and 22nd centuries Know No Country Boundaries - Know No Family Boundaries. With an event of mass disobedience we start, No shot is fired, no one is physically hurt. On a sunny day, at every airport of the world, People queue up for check-in with no visa in hand. One and all, in all the classes - economy, first or business, No one had a visa; world citizenship each like to harness. Nowhere in the world, from any airport, Took off any International flight. Following day was no different, And the following night. All airlines give up, No end of the tunnel, no ushering light. For questioning his role in mass disobedience, Arrested was John, and served punishing sentence. He was punished to undergo forensic probes, For extracting his memoir and his hopes, To get the events that led him to his roles, To his visions to cross boundary ropes. What drove you to write this particular BOOK? I have seen people getting exploited because of certain rules and regulations of the society. Those rules and regulations were perhaps designed to suit the people of the past centuries. But conditions are much different in the 21st century; now people use these rules and regulations to exploit people, instead of benefitting them. I feel that I have been exploited as well, but I don't complain against the people who have been instrumental in exploiting me; I am trying to find out what minimum changes must be made in the rules and regulations to make this world a better place to live in, not for a few people, but for all human beings. John, the hero of this book develops a vision for One World, with no country boundaries and no family boundaries. The book makes a forensic analysis of memoirs of John, who was born and developed as a common man within the usual rules and regulations of the society. John wanted to make the best of the situations, he was in. He has become an erudite scholar and better off in health and wealth than most other citizens of the world; still he has not forgotten the pains he has been through. He has now become a visionary of a world where citizen would know no country boundaries, no family boundaries. The book 'Know No Boundaries' depicts John's vision and the life that led him to this vision. John's biography is not much different from mine, though the names of the characters and places are all different. But I am sure John is not alone, there are many Johns in the world, and each John will think I have written about no one else but him. What avenues have you taken to MARKET the book? Have you gotten reviews, interviews, TV, print media coverage? I have made almost no effort to market my books, lest the readers should relate the events of this book to private information of my friends and relatives. I have published the book using a pseudonym - 'Lateral Collateral'. The names of the characters in this book should not match with those of people, known to me. The places of occurrence are given framed names. For example, in this book, many events have taken place in the cities of Dowlon and Awtotom; no cities in the world bear such names. Thanks to Trafford/Partridge Publishing, I have set up a website for launching this book: <http://www.know-no-boundaries.com/>. In this site, Home Page provides an overview of the book; About the Author introduces the author; Buy the Book shows that the book can be browsed and purchased at Amazon.com, Barnes&Noble and Trafford/Partridge Publishing, Pitch displays the central idea of the story; Reviews show comments and reviews from the people of various countries; Book Excerpt presents the 1st chapter of the book.

No Boundaries

Water circulates continuously and seamlessly on Earth with little regard for the boundaries we draw. There are natural boundaries as between land and ocean and surface and subsurface environments, as well as human or demographic boundaries between nations, cultures, and religions. Although considered necessary by societies, these human-created boundaries disrupt natural water circulation, leading to serious water-related environmental problems. The dilemma of how to manage water beyond our boundaries remains, and nations have different ways and means of controlling each form of water, whether as vapor, surface water, groundwater, or seawater. Recent findings on the interaction of water from land, oceans, and the atmosphere encourage researchers to undertake collaborative work that goes beyond the boundaries of each discipline, be it oceanography, surface and subsurface hydrology, climatology, or glaciology. Drawing on all these fields, the book focuses on two major boundaries: that between surface water and ground water, and that between terrestrial water and ocean water. This comprehensive work is of great value to experts in academia, international organizations, consulting firms, water resources, fisheries, and urban development planning agencies.

Modernity is back on sociology's agenda. From the beginnings of sociology as an academic discipline, questions surrounding the meaning and consequences of modernity have fascinated generations of sociologists. The initial interest in the concept was inspired by a sense of a deep rupture (and crisis) afflicting European society, a sense that society was approaching something fundamentally different from the past, an entirely new form of societal organization that bore little resemblance to anything known before. Where exactly this transformation was headed was by no means clear, but around the 18th century a growing number of European intellectuals and scholars realized that the changes that had been in the making since the late 15th century were irreversible and could not be contained in any particular region or confined to particular sectors of society, but would ultimately transform all spheres of life. Like other thinkers, sociologists observed this transformation with awe, and their attitude towards it has always been ambivalent. The 20th century, during which modernity gradually began to break through globally, was also a century during which many sociologists became increasingly disillusioned with the promises of "the modern project". But with the exhaustion of the energies of "postmodernism\

Calling for accountability, Practice What You Preach discusses ethical questions that arise in congregations and pastoral leadership. Formation of pastors, empowering leaders, resolving power struggles between clergy and laity-these and other critical pastoral issues are addressed by an ecumenical group of contributors. Divided into four parts: the way the churches train their pastors; the way their pastors live; the way communities worship; and the way communities behave, this collection identifies and offers positive solutions to areas where churches are often slow to change. Each essay begins with a case describing a typical problem-from wages to in-fighting-and then discusses what virtues or character traits might be developed to resolve the problem effectively.
