My Favorite Pets

My Favorite Pets is the first book in the "My Favorite Things: Paragraph Writing Series) The recommended ages for this book are 6 - 9. What's exciting about this book is that it highlights everyday animals that children often have an interest in. The book also has an animated course that can be found on kidyouiversity.com. Does your child hate writing? Plot twist! sharpen lots of pencils and get ready to hear "Wow! Writing is so easy!" My Favorite Things not only explains the basics, but it also teaches children to write by combining things many children love- art, their favorite things, and clarity. We both know that your child has an amazing imagination. A good learning experience will motivate your child to want to put those amazing thoughts on paper. * This book is for children who may not enjoy writing or may have difficulty with writing long sentences or writing multiple sentences to explain one idea. * It's great for students who are very talkative but may not quite know how to organize their ideas on paper. * In South Korea and Japan, kids as young as 5 have used this book, and the animated course that comes with it, and learned to write on 2nd and 3rd-grade levels. * 9 and 10 years old have also taken this course to relearn writing basics and to build confidence and an interest in writing. What exactly do students learn? * How do I organize a sentence? * What is a paragraph? * Why should I write? * What are my favorite things? * How can learning to write help me now? (Wow! Can I really write my own book?) * Why should I learn to write a paragraph? * Can I learn and play at the same time? Wow!!! I can!

My Favorite Pet: Rabbits

This classroom resource provides teachers with a strong foundation in the elements of persuasive writing. In the 21st century classroom, the skills and strategies required to effectively evaluate and compose opinions has never been greater. This book discusses why teaching persuasive writing is relevant and beneficial to the target age groups, and includes resources to help grades K-2 students examine multiple views on a topic and write their own informed, effective opinions and arguments. Persuasive writing provides students with an avenue to examine a topic, develop informed views, express their opinions, and defend their ideas with logical, evidence-based reasoning. This resource takes a unique approach to the topic of teaching persuasive writing with an effective combination of tips, strategies, and resources. With mentor texts, student writing samples, rubrics, lesson plans, and questions to assess professional growth at the end of each section, teachers will learn why persuasive writing is so important in today's classrooms, and how to tackle the challenge of teaching it. This book includes: 21 persuasive writing strategies; 10 lesson plans; student writing samples; mentor texts; anchor charts.

Boosting the Mind's Eye

Boosting the Mind's Eye is a theory-based program guiding parents, educators, counselors, and psychologists through progressive steps bolstering emotional intelligence in children and adults through the development of visualization and language skills. This program was originally designed to address the emotional and social deficits of individuals along the Autistic Spectrum; however, it has become a useful tool in aiding the social understanding of all individuals presenting social weaknesses, regardless of diagnoses. The book offers theory, research, a step-by-step guide, photos, and sample dialogue to improve upon many skills, such as reading facial expressions, body language, emotional vocabulary, visualization, expressive language, and role-playing. This program creates a marriage between instructional and psychological methods addressing the fundamental development of social and emotional skills utilizing imagery and language intervention allowing for the retention of these skills at the process level.

Exotic dancer, Latoya Garrett wanted to be a star. On stage she was Midnight, beautiful and sexy, with a body women envied and men would kill for. Offstage, however, she was far less confident. After surviving two heartbreaks dealing with her best friends' drug addiction and overcoming a family tragedy, she decides to take control of her life. With her dreams of stardom behind her, she concentrates her energy on her friends. Now, the four young boys in her tough Newark neighborhood, who had always looked out for her, are in trouble and it could cost them their lives. Latoya teams up with her friends: Chinadoll, beautiful and strong, Charlene, her long-time rival, and Rajean, the player and owner of Peepers, the popular go-go bar, to save the boys from the cops-who have it in for them- and the addicts, who are after them. What Latoya, her friends, and the four boys learn from one another will last a lifetime.

Picture, If You Will . . .

Jack longs for a pet, something BIG, something EXCITING - like an elephant. Or a lion. Or maybe even a Tyrannosaurus rex! But mum's not so sure about Jack's suggestions, and she always has a very good reason. Then Jack thinks of a solution that pleases them both: a dog. However, Jack's choice of dog is perhaps not what his mum had in mind - This successful picture book is newly presented in a gorgeous board book format, designed to bring this humorous story to younger readers. AGE: 6m + AUTHOR: Emma Dodd's humorous, distinctive illustrations have proved successful in a number of Templar projects, including the AMAZING BABY range and a picture board series encompassing titles 'Sometimes...', 'When...', 'You and Me'. 'What Pet to Get?', her first picture book, was followed by 'I Thought I Saw a Dinosaur' in 2007 and 'Miaow Said the Cow' in 2009. SELLING POINTS: * Activity sheet downloads * One gatefold

The book you are about to read is destined to be the first, middle, and maybe even the last word on nonfiction writing for young, young children. It is certainly a text that you will return to over and over again as you do with a beloved cookbook. —from the Foreword by Tomie dePaola Over eighty- five percent of the reading and writing we do as adults is nonfiction, yet most of the reading and writing in K–3 classrooms is fiction or personal narrative. In Is That a Fact? Teaching Nonfiction Writing K-3, Tony Stead shows you how to open the door to the rich world of nonfiction writing that goes beyond what I did narratives and animal reports. And he convincingly demonstrates the importance of introducing nonfiction writing in the primary grades. Nonfiction inspires enthusiasm in young children because they can choose topics that are of interest to them personally. Is That a Fact? explores a variety of authentic purposes for writing nonfiction, such as describing, explaining, instructing, persuading, retelling, and exploring relationships with others. You will learn how to introduce each purpose using a variety of forms, including letters, reports, poetry, captions, directions, and interviews. Part One provides a complete overview of teaching nonfiction writing in the primary grades and includes: practical ways for organizing nonfiction resources within the classroom; how to assist children in collecting information for research; ideas for helping children keep their sense of voice when writing nonfiction; a chapter on spelling, with examples of how to guide students at each stage of spelling development; strategies for assessment and evaluation that guide teaching and learning engagements. Part Two provides five different explorations that were implemented in actual K–3 classrooms. Each focuses on a specific purpose for writing nonfiction and features: examples of whole-class, small-group, and independent instructional engagements; a comprehensive assessment rubric that will help teachers tailor instruction to the needs of all learners; an extensive resource section that includes lists of books in the exploration, grouped by readability levels; answers to the most commonly asked questions about teaching nonfiction writing. The appendixes include a self-assessment questionnaire, reproducible pages for exploring specific writing forms, and letters to parents. Children need to be introduced to the different purposes of nonfiction writing. They need to know how to plan, compose, revise, and publish nonfiction beyond narrative. Is That a Fact? guides you in achieving these goals with your students.
