The Infinite Helix and the Emerald Flame

In this channelled transmission, Magenta Pixie enters into an expansive, transformative and activating exploration of interdimensional dialogue discussing the mechanics of stargate ascension. This cutting edge information holds keycodes, maps and coordinates for the 'starseeds on Earth' as they go through this process of DNA reconstruction and regrouping of 'cosmic memory' themselves. The significant codex of information is downloaded to the reader as they, through this sacred text, are called by the Dragon, Excalibur, Krystalline Light Geometry, Atlantis and the Emerald Flame.

Lessons from a Living Lemuria

What is karma? Are there ways we can balance this and become karma-free? Is there a particular nutritional plan we should follow for ascension? Do we increase our karmic balance by eating certain foods? How can we utilise sex magick to work with karma and move through ascension? There are many lessons we can learn from the peoples of ancient Lemuria, a civilisation that existed before our known history on planet Earth. As we move through an ascension process collectively, we move back into a 'New Lemuria' and we take with us all the knowledge we have accumulated since those times. In this transmission from the White Winged Collective Consciousness of Nine, keycodes are presented for cellular memory recall, linking the reader 'beyond Atlantis' and into the harmonious frequencies of the first physical civilisation on the Earth - Lemuria. The Nine respond to questions using the Lemurian way as a template. Keycoded responses trigger activations within the reader as they receive the wisdom codes, standing as 'rainbow warriors of Gaia' moving into abundance, alchemy and stargate ascension. * Magenta Pixie is a channel for the higher dimensional, divine intelligence known as 'The White Winged Collective Consciousness of Nine'. The transmissions she receives from 'The Nine' have reached thousands of people worldwide via the extensive video collection on her YouTube channel. She has worked with people from all over the world as an intuitive consultant and ascension/consciousness coach. Magenta lives in the New Forest, UK. Magenta Pixie is also the author of "Masters of the Matrix\

Blindsight

Hugo and Shirley Jackson award-winning Peter Watts stands on the cutting edge of hard SF with his acclaimed novel, Blindsight Two months since the stars fell... Two months of silence, while a world held its breath. Now some half-derelict space probe, sparking fitfully past Neptune's orbit, hears a whisper from the edge of the solar system: a faint signal sweeping the cosmos like a lighthouse beam. Whatever's out there isn't talking to us. It's talking to some distant star, perhaps. Or perhaps to something closer, something en route. So who do you send to force introductions with unknown and unknowable alien intellect that doesn't wish to be met? You send a linguist with multiple personalities, her brain surgically partitioned into separate, sentient processing cores. You send a biologist so radically interfaced with machinery that he sees x-rays and tastes ultrasound. You send a pacifist warrior in the faint hope she won't be needed. You send a monster to command them all, an extinct hominid predator once called vampire, recalled from the grave with the voodoo of recombinant genetics and the blood of sociopaths. And you send a synthesist—an informational topologist with half his mind gone—as an interface between here and there. Pray they can be trusted with the fate of a world. They may be more alien than the thing they've been sent to find. At the Publisher's request, this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software (DRM) applied.

Die Menschheit durchläuft derzeit eine große Transformation. Flüchtlingskrise, Terroranschläge oder die Plastikflut in unseren Meeren - alles scheint auf den in der Bibel beschriebenen "Armageddon" hinzuweisen. Die Menschen leiden unter innerer Leere! Tief in ihrem Innersten spüren sie, dass sie den Kontakt zu ihrem göttlichen Teil - zu ihrer Seele - verloren haben. Nach einer schweren Krankheit (samt Nahtoderfahrung) und anschließender privaten Krise, befand sich Kirsten Malmendier genau an diesem Punkt. Sie durchlief eine tiefe Depression und öffnete sich der göttlichen Führung. Im Verlauf ihrer Heilung wurde sie zu einer Wegweiserin, die ihre Aufgabe darin sieht, all jene Menschen, die sich in einer scheinbar ausweglosen Situation befinden, wieder mit ihrem göttlichen Teil zu verbinden.

Recognize your higher self effortlessly. This is a book that speeds up the reader's spiritual evolution. The reading itself plunges the reader in to an ocean of crystalline light. Read and awaken. Matias Flury through Surya Trataka (concentration in the center of the sun), along with extended fasts, deep meditation and Kechari Mudra, (technique of internal alchemy) opened the doors of perception, where he entered a magical world ready to guide him. The author connected to mystical dimensions and several translucent beings from those realms. This book materialized from that initial contact and it will let you see, hear and feel these other planes of radiant consciousness. Every word and letter here is positioned and designed to create an unbreakable bond with these beings of blazing light. The imprinted sentences here are miraculous and in a mysterious way will connect you to mesmerizing, intelligent living energies that will aid you on this journey of awakening without asking for anything in return.

The Glow-Worm and Other Beetles

'She is unique. She is legend' THE TIMES 'A tour de force' EVENING STANDARD 'A wonderfully mordant analyst of human weakness' Martin Amis Earth, like the rest of the Known Worlds, has fallen to the Shing. Scattered here and there, small groups of humans live in a state of semi-barbarism. They have lost the skills, science and knowledge that had been Earth's in the golden age of the League of Worlds, and whenever a colony of humans tries to rekindle the embers of a half-forgotten technology, the Shing, with their strange, mindying power, crush them out. There is one man who can stand against the malign Shing, but he is an alien with amber eyes and must first prove to paranoid humanity that he himself is not a creature of the Shing.

City Of Illusions

Unlike many books on painting that usually talk about art or painters, James Elkins' compelling and original work focuses on alchemy, for like the alchemist, the painter seeks to transform and be transformed by the medium. In What Painting Is, James Elkins communicates the experience of painting beyond the traditional vocabulary of art history. Alchemy provides a magical language to explore what it is a painter really does in her or his studio - the smells, the mess, the struggle to control the uncontrollable, the special knowledge only painters hold of how colours will mix, and how they will look. Written from the perspective of a painter-turned-art historian, What Painting Is is like nothing you have ever read about art.

In the history of electronic communication, the last quarter of the nineteenth century holds a special place, for it was during this period that the telephone, phonograph, electric light, wireless, and cinema were all invented. In When Old Technologies Were New, Carolyn Marvin explores how two of these new inventions--the telephone and the electric light--were publicly envisioned at the end of the nineteenth century, as seen in specialized engineering journals and popular media. Marvin pays particular attention to the telephone, describing how it disrupted established social relations, unsettling customary ways of dividing the private person and family from the more public setting of the community. On the lighter side, she describes how people spoke louder when calling long distance, and how they worried about catching contagious diseases over the phone. A particularly powerful chapter deals with telephonic precursors of radio broadcasting--the "Telephone Herald" in New York and the "Telefon Hirmondo" of Hungary--and the conflict between the technological development of broadcasting and the attempt to impose a homogenous, ethnocentric variant of Anglo-Saxon culture on the public. While focusing on the way professionals in the electronics field tried to control the new media, Marvin also illuminates the broader social impact, presenting a wide-ranging, informative, and entertaining account of the early years of electronic media.

The Romance of Natural History

It began with a key. One afternoon in 1956, in the home of the Hitchings family in Battersea, south London, a small silver key appeared on Shirley Hitchings' bed. This seemingly insignificant event heralded the beginning of one of the most terrifying, incredible and mysterious hauntings in British history. The spirit, who quickly became known as 'Donald', began to communicate, initially via tapping sounds, but over time - and with the encouragement of psychical researcher Harold Chibbett, whose case-files appear here - by learning to write. Soon, the spirit had begun to make simply incredible claims about his identity, insisting that he was one of the most famous figures in world history - but what was the truth? Here, for the first time, is the full story, told by the woman right at the heart of it all - Shirley herself.

The Poltergeist Prince of London

The author's direct aim in the present work is to furnish the historians of the special sciences with new material which will serve to widen the scope of their survey. The Hindus no less than the Greeks have shared in the work of constructing scientific concepts and methods in the investigation of physical phenomena, as well as of building up a body of positive knowledge which has been applied to industrial technique; and Hindu scientific ideas and methodology (e.g. the inductive method or method of algebraic analysis) have deeply influenced the course of natural philosophy in Asia—in the East as well as the West—in China and Japan, as well as in the Saracen Empire. The author has undertaken a comparative estimate of Greek and Hindu science. Hindu Philosophy on its empirical side was dominated by geometrical concepts and methods. The author has cared to see that the Sanskrit philosophic-scientific terminology, however difficult from its technical character, is rendered exceedingly precise, consistent, and expressive.

The central figure of The Silver Chalice is Basil of Antioch, a young sculptor of Antioch, once a slave, who is charged by the dying Joseph of Arimathea to fashion a frame worthy to hold the silver Cup from which Jesus drank at the Last Supper. His task takes Basil first to Joseph's house in Jerusalem where he meets the gentle Deborra who is destined to be his wife, and then on a journey, pursued by Jewish Zealots and ever in danger of Roman persecution, through the ancient world to Rome. Here at the gaudy palace of the Emperor Nero, he meets again Helen, the slave-girl, who still stands between him and Deborra; here at a shabby inn on the outskirts of the city he sees Peter in disguise, serving wine. And one by one he adds to the chalice the portraits of the disciples and followers of Jesus—Luke and Paul in Jerusalem, Matthew and Mark in Antioch; John, the beloved, at Ephesus; Peter at Rome. But, torn between two women, unable to find the same joy in Christianity as others, Basil is not yet at peace. Against this background, with its great and colorful figures, there is unfolded the story not only of the dramatic days of the founding of Christianity, but also of one man's striving to come to terms with himself. "The author's heart-felt conviction...his detailed command of his material. Writing of events in the years soon after the Crucifixion, when the Gospel was spreading like a forest fire, Mr. Costain has caught that fervent pulsing enthusiasm and conveys it because he believes in it."—Viola Garvin, The Daily Telegraph "A work of fine sensibility and insight. It presents a theme, human and divine, that will touch heart as well as head. Here is a book worth reading."—Church Times "In its class, I think it is better than The Robe."—British Weekly

The Positive Sciences of the Ancient Hindus

Explore a story told across the millennia that delves deep into a pair of fascinating necron characters, their relationship and their plans for the galaxy. Before the being called the Emperor revealed Himself, before the rise of the aeldari, before the necrontyr traded their flesh for immortal metal, the world was born in violence. Even when they inhabited bodies of flesh, Trazyn the Infinite and Orikan the Diviner were polar opposites. Trazyn, a collector of historical oddities, presides over a gallery full of the most dangerous artefacts – and people – of the galactic past. Orikan, a chronomancer without peer, draws zodiacs that predict and manipulate the future. But when an artefact emerges that may hold the key to the necrons' next evolution, these two obsessives enter a multi-millennia game of cat and mouse that ends civilisations, reshapes timelines, and changes both forever. As riddles unwind and ancient secrets are revealed, the question remains: will their feud save the necron race or destroy it?

Nature in Downland

All of us are born with an enormous, inexhaustible strength that is being smothered, smothered, or squelched by those who are considered rulers of our soul, power, and destiny. This book is for those who have realized this and are ready to take action to free themselves from the oppression they are subjected to on a daily basis. Here, you will learn the genuine rules of nature rather than warped and horrible ones that make people "servants of God" and destroy 'God's work' in them, as this book does. As a voice from God, this book tries to reclaim the children's origin, reveal the true meaning of their existence, and explain to them the essence of things as they really are, instead of how they are presented by the powers that be-the stuffed and greedy manufacturers of an endless stream of unhealthy and unnecessary products that poison the human body and destroy the divinity inherent in each one of them. When God the Father is ready to take under his wing all those souls who have reached such a level of spiritual development that they can break free from the shackles of modern society with its rotten laws and concepts veiled as virtue and hear the voice of their heart and their soul, this Ebook shows how one can and should act in this modern world. These are the people who are ready to lead others into a new, bright and harmonious existence filled with goodwill and infinite love, who have outgrown their "peers." If we are to construct cities of light, we need to surround ourselves with those whose genuine skills can shine for the benefit of humanity and Mother Earth in this new, revitalized era. In this book, you'll learn how to survive in a completely new environment. In order to live in peace with the environment around us, it is imperative that we elevate our vibrations to match the Earth's as it moves into a higher dimension. I am grateful to all those courageous people, despite their family and friends' disapproval, who dare to take the leap into the fifth dimension without fear of newness or the judgment of their loved ones.

Martin Gardner's Mathematical Games columns in Scientific American inspired and entertained several generations of mathematicians and scientists. Gardner in his crystal-clear prose illuminated corners of mathematics, especially recreational mathematics, that most people had no idea existed. His playful spirit and inquisitive nature invite the reader into an exploration of beautiful mathematical ideas along with him. These columns were both a revelation and a gift when he wrote them; no one--before Gardner--had written about mathematics like this. They continue to be a marvel. This volume is a collection of Irving Joshua Matrix columns published in the magazine from 1960-1980. There were several collections of Dr. Matrix, the first in 1967; they were revised as Gardner reconnected with the good doctor over the years. This is the 1985 Prometheus Books edition and contains all the Dr. Matrix columns from the magazine.

The first collection of critical essays on May Swenson and her literary universe, Body My House initiates an academic conversation about an unquestionably major poet of the middle and late twentieth century. Between the 1950s and the 1980s, May Swenson produced eleven volumes of poetry, received many major awards, was elected chancellor of the Academy of American Poets, and was acclaimed by writers in virtually every school of American poetry. Essays here address the breadth of Swenson's literary corpus and offer varied scholarly approaches to it. They reference Swenson manuscripts---poems, letters, diaries, and other prose---some of which have not been widely available before. Chapters focus on Swenson's work as a nature writer; the literary and social contexts of her writing; her national and international acclaim; her work as a translator; associations with other poets and writers (Bishop, Moore, and others); her creative process; and her profound explorations of gender and sexuality. The first full volume of scholarship on May Swenson, Body My House suggest an ambitious agenda for further work. Contributors include Mark Doty, Gudrun Grabher, Cynthia Hogue, Suzann Juhasz, R.R. Knudson, Alicia Ostriker, Martha Nell Smith, Michael Spooner, Paul Swenson, and Kirstin Hotelling Zona.

Tarot Deciphered

Flammability has been recognized as an increasingly important social and scientific problem. Fire statistics in the United States (Report of the National Commission on Fire Prevention and Control. "America Burning:" 1973) emphasized the vast devastation to life and property--12,000 lives lost annually due to fire. and these deaths are usually caused by inhaling smoke or toxic gases: 300,000 fire injuries: 11.4 billion dollars in fire cost at which 2.7 billion dollars is related to property loss: a billion dollars to burn injury treatment: and 3.3 billion dollars in productivity loss. It is obvious that much human and economic misery can be attributed to fire situations. In relation to this, polymer flammability has been recognized as an increasingly important social and scientific problem. The development of flame-retardant polymeric materials is a current example where the initiative for major scientific and technological developments is motivated by sociological pressure and legislation. This is part of the important trend toward a safer environment and sets a pattern for future example. Flame retardancy deals with our basic everyday life situations-housing, work areas, transportation, clothing and so forth-the "macroenvironment" capsule within which "homosapiens" live. As a result, flame-retardant polymers are now emerging as a specific class of materials leading to new and diversified scientific and technological ventures.
