CHALLENGES There are challenges or problems that are primarily technical in nature, challenges that have both a technical and adaptive dimension, and challenges that are primarily adaptive in nature.

TECHNICAL Technical challenges are problems in the workplace, community, or self that are clearly defined, with known solutions that can be implemented through existing organizational procedures.

DIMENSION Some challenges have both a technical and adaptive dimension.

ADAPTIVE Central to the process of adaptive leadership are adaptive challenges. Adaptive challenges are problems that are not clear-cut or easy to identify

Not easy to tackle and often resisted, adaptive challenges are difficult because they usually require changes in people's priorities, beliefs, roles, and values.

RESEARCH First, very little empirical research has been conducted to test the claims of adaptive leadership theory even though the conceptual framework for this approach was set forth more than 20 years ago.

PROCESS Second, conceptualization of the process of adaptive leadership needs further refinement.

MORAL Finally, from a theoretical perspective, the adaptive leadership framework hints at but does not directly explain how adaptive leadership incorporates a moral dimension.

The model acknowledges the importance of promoting values such as equality, justice, and community, but the link between adaptive work and achieving those social values is not clear.

Intro

EFFECTIVE Adaptive leadership has been used effectively to explain how leaders encourage effective change across multiple levels, including self, organizational, community, and societal.

CHALLENGES An adaptive leader challenges others to face difficult challenges, providing them with the space they need to learn new ways of dealing with the changes that they are likely to encounter in addressing real problems.

FOLLOWER Although people often think of adaptive leadership as being leader-centered, it is actually more follower-centered. It focuses primarily on how leaders help others do the work they need to do, in order to adapt to the challenges they face.

VALUES Adaptive leaders engage in activities that mobilize, motivate, organize, orient, and focus the attention of others. In addition, adaptive leadership is about helping others to explore and change their values.

Adaptive leadership is a unique kind of leadership that focuses on the dynamics of mobilizing people to address change.

CHALLENGES There are challenges or problems that are primarily technical in nature, challenges that have both a technical and adaptive dimension, and challenges that are primarily adaptive in nature.

TECHNICAL Technical challenges are problems in the workplace, community, or self that are clearly defined, with known solutions that can be implemented through existing organizational procedures.

ADAPTIVE Central to the process of adaptive leadership are adaptive challenges. Adaptive challenges are problems that are not clear-cut or easy to identify

Not easy to tackle and often resisted, adaptive challenges are difficult because they usually require changes in people's priorities, beliefs, roles, and values.

PRESCRIPTIVE These behaviors are general prescriptions for leaders when helping others confront difficult challenges and the inevitable changes that accompany them.

WORK Adaptive work develops from the communication processes that occur between the leader and followers but is primarily the work of followers.

PROCESS Because the holding environment plays a critical role in the adaptive process, leaders direct considerable energy toward establishing and maintaining it.

INTERACT In adaptive leadership, leaders do not use their authority to control others; rather, leaders interact with people to help them do adaptive work.

Adaptive leadership is a complex process comprising multiple dimensions, including situational challenges, leader behaviors, and

WORK The overriding focus of the process is to engage individuals in doing adaptive work.

PROCESS First, the leader takes time to step back from a challenging situation to understand the complexities of the situation and obtain a fuller picture of the interpersonal dynamics occurring among the participants.

NO ORDER While the recipe for adaptive leadership comprises many leader behaviors and activities, there is no particular order to the prescribed behaviors.

PROCESS First, in contrast to many other leadership theories, adaptive leadership takes a process approach to the study of leadership.

VALUES Third, adaptive leadership is unique in how it directs authority to help followers deal with conflicting values that emerge in changing work environments and social contexts.

USEFUL Another strength of adaptive leadership is that it provides a prescriptive approach to leadership that is useful and practical.

PROCESS Second, conceptualization of the process of adaptive leadership needs further refinement.

Adaptive leadership provides a framework made up of a unique set of constructs that help us determine what type of challenges we face and strategies for managing them.

ORGANIZATIONAL On the organizational level, adaptive leadership can be used as a model to explain and address a variety of challenges that are ever present during change and growth.
