A Warm Fire

According to poet Paul Jason Bartholomew, a poet is a conductor who arouses and awakens the dormant inner sanctum of self-awareness. In his poetry collection, A Warm Fire: Poems of Faith, Family, and Friends to Warm the Heart, he uses passion and pathos as powerful motivating instruments in conducting a personal symphony to which we alone can harmonize. From picking berries and apples to tapping sap for maple syrup, pouring wax for fragrant candles, and from warm fires on snowy nights to sledding and autumn walks, the subjects of his poetry evoke a warm and happy life. Grab a mug of steaming coffee and come absorb the crackle and aroma of a cozy fire in the old stone fireplace as you dive into this new poetry collection, A Warm Fire. Curved and crooked is this leaf-strewn path originally made by a cow and her calf. still overlaced with leafy arms, like most local lanes to local farms. The road is special to my wife and me treelined sentinels for my family. Tread through mud, snow autumn leaves alone, we built a place at its end called Home! from The Lane

Poems of Faith, Family, and Love

In this, my first published book, I have taken some eighty-six poems from more than three hundred I have written over nearly fifty years. Some express a simple faith in God the Father, some give praises to Jesus, some focus on biblical events and people, and some are what I call the opposite of the parables of Jesus. Instead of comparing an earthly situation with a heavenly situation, as Jesus did, I contrast the two. Some good examples are "Scars," "God Will Never Leave Us," and "You Can Count on Me." Finally, I have included poems about family relationships, including mothers, fathers, and daughters. If you are a Christian, I hope this book will bless you; if you don't know Jesus as your Savior, it is my prayer that God will use this book to show you one simple truth that Jesus loves you.

Poems of the Heart

Poems of the Heart seeks to encourage and inspire in you. From recollections of a simpler time in life to a deep faith and trust in God whose love never fails, Poems of the Heart can, for a moment, take you away from the cares of life and lift you into God's grace.

The Fire That Burns Within

"The Fire That Burns" is a spiritually-romantic compilation of poems of surrender, trust, devotion, commitment, and dedication, to the "Divine One." The verses within stimulate the mind, body, soul, and spirit with words of love and inspiration, awakening one's innermost being.

Heart and Soul

My desire is that when people read this book, it will shed some light on how their life can be changed in a way that will bring about joy, peace, and happiness, as well as health and wholeness as it is continuing to do so for me. Included in this book is a poem titled "A Healing Heart." It highlights how letting go of the past and past pain can bring about healing in one's life. It is always in the best interest of a person to always remember to forgive others, whether it's family, friends, or just people who are involved in your everyday life. I hope that people, after reading this book, will understand what needs to be done to live a happy and prosperous life.

Prevailing Love

As rain and snow water the earth, So God's Word is water to me; It's encouragement and healing; It's a word of advice and wisdom book With examples and treachery and all that is human; It points to Jesus, the Light, and all that's right. Constance Howard Moore began writing poetry during a difficult time in her life. Her poetry became a way for her to triumph in the face of adversity. Illuminated by autobiographical details and moving accounts of her family's struggles with illness, hardships, and even death, the poems in Prevailing Love reveal the many ways God helps us through life's darkest days. In this collection, readers will find beautiful imagery, bittersweet inspiration, and undeniable evidence of God's Prevailing Love.

Faith, Family & Friends

Faith, Family, and Friends presents a collection of poetry that reflects the deep emotions in author Anna Cullefer Ferry's heart. She writes of the faith that has helped her through the challenges of her life in a way that may also help others through their own struggles of faith in God. She also shares very personal verses about her family and friends, writing about those closest to her through both the happy and sad times of her life. From a poignant poem about her brother, Bobby, who died too young to an uplifting poem about her loving father called "My Daddy," these verses invite us into Ferry's life. It is her profound faith in God and the love of her family and friends that shines through in Faith, Family, and Friends. Tomorrow If tomorrow never comes And I sleep the longest night, I pray that what they say of me Is that she was a guiding light. If tomorrow never comes And I cannot see the sun, I hope it shines on everyone To show my work was done. "Anna Ferry is striving to present reflections on questions that trouble and challenge many of us. Are we willing to live by faith, do we find peace in 'God's house,' and do we sense the presence of the Spirit in my life, my world, and my relationships?" -Rev. David J. Tokarz, MA (Oxon), STL

Faith, Family, and Friends

Expressions of the Heart contains the author's personal observations on human relationships, the wonders of God's creations, and her personal journey as a follower of Jesus Christ. It also contains a special section of Christmas poems written over the years. Inspirational poems like "My Lord" and "His Light Divine" uplift and motivate, but there are also poems like "Seek Your Face and Pray" and "Keep My Place in Line" that present challenges that befall a Christian in the daily struggle to keep faith. There are poignant homages to caregivers, like "A Mother's Task Is Never Done" and poems that capture the spirit of parenting, like "Goals" and "The Careful Gardener." Poems like "Seasonal Gossip" spark sensory memories that enable a reader to almost smell and taste the change in season. This collection will encourage you to examine your relationships with friends and family, have a closer walk with God, or simply notice the world around you.

Expressions of the Heart

The poems are a celebration of our Lord and Savior and Heavenly Father, as well as our lives here on earth. These verses are a joy to read again and again. Faith: The poems not only stir your heart and soul, but help you cope with troubled times. There is a personal and sentimental feeling about these touching poems inspired by God above. Family: Poetry that not only gives you a message that all families have issues, but it is the love that will see us through. Perhaps you will even take a trip down memory lane to a favorite time or place. Friends: God sends His love in the form of friends, for without them in our lives, how could we manage? Friends assist us through the bad times and help us acknowledge the good ones.

Faith, Family & Friends

Faith, Love, and the Joy of Living is a warm and moving collection of poems that will introduce readers to life and experiences of John J. Sidebotham. Focusing on the themes of religious faith, patriotism, life observations, and romantic love, each poem is an expression of Sidebotham's devotion to God, country, family, and his wife of fifty-plus years. In this impressive debut, Sidebotham offers readers a glimpse into his life and a glance at long-cherished American values.

Faith, Love, and the Joy of Living

PLUCKED OUT OF THE FIRE Zechariah (3:2) and the LORD said unto Satan, the LORD rebukes thee, O Satan: even the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebukes thee: Is not this a brand plucked out of the fire? GOD has seen me when I was down in my misery! He came and told me how to pray to thee! He said son if you are with me; COME! FOLLOW! ME! I will open your eyes and understanding so that you may see! I was pricked at the heart; and began to follow the LORD; that is when I picked up the Bible and began to read the word. I began to understand all the things that I have heard; about the WORD made into Flesh; THE LIVING GOD WE SERVE! Plucked out of the Fire! A second chance to repent! Now, to turn away from sin; and live the life that was meant. I now live like the WORD for he was heaven sent; preaching the Word of Life, for this is Jesus Holy intent. Spared from all of the grief of this carnal life; now I can walk and talk; just like Jesus Christ. Sent out to deliver GODS Word making that sacrifice; with GODS Grace and Mercy is enough for me to suffice. Now I speak boldly for Jesus paid for my sins; now I go and tell everyone to return to God again. GOD is not slack in his promise to all righteous men; PLUCKED OUT OF THE FIRE! By Jesus our loving friend. WE THANK YOU JESUS FOR LOVING US AMEN! AMEN! AMEN

Plucked out of the Fire!

After retirement and a move to Virginia, I found more time to do what I loved. I began to write poems from little notes and ideas I had written down through the years. I was inspired by God's Word, sermons, songs, and devotions. A friend, Emily Wood, encouraged me to put them into a booklet, which I did.

Thus began Inspirational Poems. Now, at age ninety, I decided to have them published. I pray that these poems may be a blessing, an encouragement, and an inspiration to those who read them. They are my witness to God and Jesus Christ, my Lord.

Inspirational Poems

Faith Family & Love was birthed from a deep place inside the author's life. In her mind and spirit, it was dilapidated with so many hurts, past pains and emotional rollercoasters of disappointments. In finding God, she realized: the more she surrendered to God the more she began to gain wisdom, knowledge and understanding. Not knowing if she had Faith, she can have it all. Faith gave Mary strength to fight for her life as well as her family. God envisioned Mary, to express her thoughts and expressions through her poems and poetry.

Faith, Family and Love

Frogs, family and lots of fun combine to make this book of poetry a must-read by everyone who loves the funny and teachable moments we all run into. There are poems of inspiration, musings about life in general, instruction on kindness and treating others with love, understanding and respect. Never one to take credit for her own work, Joyce Folsom Johnson has written hundreds of poems over the years. Lots of them are written in tandem with our loving God who inspires her to keep getting up in the middle of the night to jot down the ideas (or full poems) He has suggested to her. These poems started out as gifts to friends and family on special occasions and to recall fun times of bygone days. Spending some time in this world brings back memories of joy and sorrow, and reminds us all to live out Jesus love. Marcia Lee Johnson Newell You take words and weave them into beautiful poetry which touch people deeply. I have admired you, and I think you are wise beyond your years. Wilma Rollins, Former School Teacher, written in 1989 Divinely inspired, encouraging, thought-provoking and at times, funny. Ever showing Gods great love for us, this book is a keeper! One to refer to for many of lifes situations. Christine Ann Johnson Morrison

Terry Harris enjoys sharing God's faithfulness and love through her inspirational stories and daily life lessons. She is a delightful storyteller and you will feel as though you are simply sitting with her around the kitchen table, hearing her latest tale of life's adventures. Just as in the first three volumes of The Warmth of the SON, volume four provides many opportunities to rejoice with her and cry with her. And there are also many times when you will laugh with her as she weaves a narrative of some of her lighthearted experiences. In a clear way, she teaches profound spiritual truths through the simplest life events, and you will surely feel as though you experienced them with her! This volume of The Warmth of the SON is unique in that the entire book includes only stories and devotions about the season of Christmas when we are preparing for the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ. This is a great way to prepare our hearts for the Savior Who will soon come to us. In addition to Terry's heartwarming stories, she has included space to jot down notes or thoughts as you meditate on the many appropriate scripture verses that she has included in The Warmth of the SON.

The Warmth of the SON - 4

These beautifully crafted inspirational poems takes my breath away, as the author's sophisticated elegance radiates from her written words, which truly allow for her understanding to go beyond human principalities. Made in God's image we are jewels, which often times escapes our comprehension.

Faith, Family and Friends

Poetry, photography, and graphic illustrations come together in beautiful harmony to convey biblically sound, nurturing, and uplifting exhortations to all believers seeking to grow their faith, and grow closer to God. In this collection of original poems structured in rhymes, haikus, etc, the author ardently hopes to encourage his readers to cultivate an intimate relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ, and to firmly hold on to His promises, especially as the days get darker, and more troublesome. Each poem is accompanied with a corresponding scripture to meditate upon.

Helen Steiner Rice's Poems of Faith

A volume filled with inspirational poems.

Never Alone

This is a book of hope, the hope I found in Jesus Christ through all my joys and all my trials. I called upon Him and He came to me. As a matter of fact, He never left me! He was there all the time, waiting for me to come to Him. When I finally did, He blessed me and rescued me and joined in with me in joyous celebration. May your hope be restored and inspired as you read my book, Poems of Inspiration and Faith. This book of poems is uplifting and thought provoking. It puts on paper thoughts and feelings that I often have but don't have the words to express it. I recommend this to everyone who walks with Jesus. You will not be disappointed! (Tina Fultz) I am very grateful for the gift of this Inspirational book. It's uplifting, meaningful and very good reading for everyone. Definitely God has blessed John with a gift of writing, and I believe he is fulfilling his purpose through his words. (Lorretta Reider)

A Parting Gift to a Christian Friend

Poems Are Large Thoughts in Small Thimbles The words in this book are a reflection of my journey through life. They are divided into four main categories, which mirror our experiences in life. The faith poems are a gift from the Lord. I just hold the pen. I hope that they inspire your journey of faith. The profound poems will make you think and reflect. I also want you to enjoy the funny poems because laughter is necessary for health and happiness. There is something about being able to laugh at our foibles that draws us together. Love poems are so emotional. Our need for another person is basic to life and the love we share is one of God's greatest gifts. These poems will take you from the first blush of discovery to the enduring joy of deep commitment. Also included are some short essays and two short stories again to make you laugh and reflect. One short story is for young children with profound Christian implications and the other is for older grade school children. I also had lots of fun throwing in some of my artwork and illustrations for your eyes to enjoy. I pray that you savor these words of life and that they enrich your own life's journey. Poems of Faith, Hope,& Love

Moments in Time: Poems of Life, Love, and Faith are poems and thoughts that were written for the enjoyment of all. It is a collection of poems and thoughts over a lifetime of travel through the world in which we live. It is a celebration of life's experience of the triumphs and failures as we move forward. The language is simple and easy to understand yet intended to be thought provoking and questioning. Included in Moments in Time are poems like: * The Christian * Traces We Leave Behind * Nobody Is Perfect * Our Once Proud Country The poem "The Christian" was published in The Isle of View, The National Library of Poetry in 1997 as part of a collection of poetry from all over the United States.

My Children I Hope is a book that has been in process ever since the spring of 1977...and continues in process. "Hope deferred (put off to a later time; postponed) maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life." --Proverbs 13:12 The front cover design, of a vine bearing grapes, depicts the success of an intervention. When you compare the same vine, of the book cover's backside, the wild and overgrown vine had been unattended for years. The process of literally drying up is at stake. After twenty-one years the author, Daniel Brian Simmons, witnesses his own personal experience of God's intervention and rescue to save his life, from the destruction and temptations, this present life, had offered him. The vine speaks of a lineage, that now has hope, but requires unwavering faith and perseverance in God to see our generation through, with real love. The written word will outlive us. What better inheritance can we leave behind? The author in this book has used a pencil and paper throughout the decades, to remedy the lack of a close friend. Inspiration came to mind; he believes by faith in God. Writing poems satisfies and succors each present situation. It leaves a sense of integrity and dignity: a worthwhileness to keep his present life clean and in order before God and others. Shall not the truth be conveyed from now on, whether by you or me and hopefully by those we leave behind? "As for me, this is my covenant (agreement) with them, saith the Lord; My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and forever." --Isaiah 59:21

Here is the place called home The only dream I've ever known Some tease, saying it's far from heaven Oh, but this is the life He owns Trevor T. McCauley's new book of poems, The Paper Sail: Words of Faith and Inspiration, digs deep into the very fabric and meaning of our walk of faith. Using focused and vivid imagery, McCauley relates both spectacular and everyday experiences to God's grace. Ranging in subject from conception, devotion, and deliverance to faith, hope, and the glory of God, the poems are equally inspired by biblical verse and life itself. Come and share in McCauley's prayers and songs of devotion. His poems are prayers, yes, but McCauley also seeks to perceive the truth of faith and belief. The Paper Sail will challenge and inspire readers' perspectives and awareness of life and its circumstances both here and beyond.

Moments In Time

Heat of a Thousands Suns is a short book of poetry from myself to my fiancé and future wife. I will be presenting this book to her on Christmas as a gift from me to her and her family. This book will be a journey about my life in a hybrid writing style. That speaks to the past traumas I've gone through in my life and the experiences of God saving me from the life that I could've lived but God pointed me in a different direction. The poems are somewhat all over the place in terms of logic, but the approach has to be from a clear mind and clear heart from each reader to understand the rhythm and flow in which each poem was written. The name of the book came from what my fiancé wrote to me on a birthday card for my 24th birthday and she said "I love you like the heat of a thousand suns. That made me know that she was my wife because I knew how much heat that was. However I want her to know about how fortunate I am to have her based upon the jungle that I went through to get to this side of life and love. Through a lot of prayer and fasting this book has come about. She watched me write a lot of it but the surprise is she doesn't know it'll be a book that's coming so soon. I also had the opportunity to debut my first writing works this past fall in my mentors book called "Why Jermaine?" Which is a memoir from my mentor that reflects his life and the many testimonials of people who he has helped reach their full potential. So I wanted to embark on a journey to continue my writing career starting my first book to my fiancé and future wife. I'd like to describe the poems in the book as like a gumbo straight from the Louisiana Bayou or a homemade chicken noodle soup that my great grandmother would make in Harlem with the gigantic chicken bones inside the broth. Some of it may be mind bending and you may lack understanding based upon how you were raised or the region of where you live but as the word of God says, "everything works together for His good." God gave me the gift of writing and I knew this was my gift ever since I was a child. I always knew I would write a book since I was a child. Growing up my father wrote songs and would have notebooks on top of notebooks of songs that he wrote and when I was a kid I couldn't read it too well but I would spend time in his thoughts and his thought process. So I took up poetry at a young age and didn't know where my journey would begin. I was just committed to reading for legibility and practice writing to enhance my gift that God blessed me with. So for 24 years I would write but I didn't have a reason to write. So I finally found a reason that was bigger than me, my fiancé. She was my why and my purpose of writing a book. She was with me when I was writing my piece for "Why Jermaine," and literally inspired me to write my first book. So this book is a testament to favor with God. So as a reader don't expect anything just read and be filled with love, joy, happiness, kindness, and favor. Through this experience of writing, I've had visions of myself performing these poems on some of the biggest stages around the world in a clash of poetry and theater where a true story is being told like Hamilton on steroids. A true love story that's magical and connected in faith. Through my writing I just hope people can see and witness that God has a plan for us all.

My Children I Hope

Fire, Faith & Glory commemorates my second year in pediatric residency in KK Womens & Childrens Hospital. It is an anthology of poems that brings you, the readers, through an emotional trajectory through my various postings across neonatology, high dependency, and the childrens intensive care unit. A sequel to Do They Have Telephones Up in Heaven? this collection pays tribute to the children whom we have lost, children who have recovered well, and children who are still fighting for their lives. This collection also remembers parents and their daily struggles through difficult times. I hope you will all find a poem in here that brings you comfort and heals any open wounds from past experiences. We all have a story to share, and I am thankful to all the patients and their families who have inspired me to write these poems, each with their own little histories. As the title suggests, this anthology is fiercer and more intense and features poems that will make one reflect, persevere, and strive toward a better tomorrow, which we are all working together for. I hope you will remember, as I always do, that you only get a beautiful rainbow after a heavy rainstorm. And no matter how heavy, it will come to an end one day and the sun will shine again brighter than ever before.

Are the pressures of life weighing you down? Were the decisions you made a result of those pressures and you're still disappointed? Have you considered your powerlessness is actually your powerfulness? Do you even know how wonderful you are? Guess what, you are an overcomer. Not because I say so, but because a greater one has declared it so...if only you believe. Poetry of Faith, Justified by Grace depicts some of life's challenges as God's kindness steps in and reveals the way to His peace and prosperity. Therefore, we should worship Him for His goodness and unconditional love. Life is a gift from God, and what other way is there but to show appreciation for it? Living authentically while adding on experiences to birth testimonies of victory is a sure way of gaining inner peace. Through these poems, it is shown how one can receive as well as maintain the serenity of hope.
