THE DOG WHO LOVED ME

The book begins with Noah's desire for a dog, a big dog; a manly dog. But the dog that is chosen is a female dog, and her name is Goldie. Noah loves Goldie, but he loves his wife more. The reader quickly learns that Edith is praying Christian. Take a journey with Noah as he is led by his wife towards God. Read how Noah discovers God and learns to witness.

What Dog Lovers Know About God

What have dog lovers learned or can learn about God through their relationships with canines? Plenty, especially when the Lord is the trainer. What Dog Lovers Know About God consists of an easy-to-read, entertaining narrative about experiences with dogs that are full of spiritual lessons sure to benefit the individual reader and/or a Bible study group. Through stories about losing a pet and about rehabilitating rescued dogs, this book explains how to: cope with death and loss, have a relationship with God, be confident in one's salvation, be freed from those things that bind us, learn to trust God, study the Bible, do spiritual warfare, identify our true enemy, become more like Jesus, hear God, know His will, appreciate fellowship, endure and understand suffering and trials, embrace our own rehabilitation, have patience through training, love the leash, live in dog-wagging joy, and best of all, know God's unconditional love. Dr. Brenda Ayres is a full professor of nineteenth-century English literature and has taught in universities for over 40 years. To date her published scholarship includes over 300 articles and 64 books with these released in 2021: The Theological Dickens (Routledge), A Vindication of the Redhead: The Typology of Red Hair Throughout the Literary and Visual Arts (Palgrave), Neo-Victorian Things: Re-Imagining Nineteenth-Century Material Cultures (Palgrave), and Victorian Scandals (Routledge). She is also the Series Editor for women's literature for Routledge. A member of Bethlehem UMC in Red Lion, Pennsylvania, she sings on its choir and often teaches a Bible Study. Annie and Libby are her two cocker spaniels, both having been rescues.

Miracle Dog Miracle God

I'm more convinced than ever that if you're going to write a book it must come from deep inside you. I believe that's so true regarding the writing of any good book, but particularly this volume. While my first published work "The Seer's House" arrived in one single vision at 3 o'clock in the morning, my second endeavour "Miracle Dog; Miracle God" took a lot longer to emerge. For over ten years following my first publication, I was caught up in the mission field in Romania and literally didn't have time to write a follow-up. Indeed, only after I'd returned from Romania and been separated from my best friend Snowbell, our Golden Retriever Labrador, did I really begin to accept that another book may be about to be birthed. I couldn't shake off the writing of this book and so eventually I sat down and wrote it. Nevertheless, "Miracle Dog; Miracle God" hasn't been the easiest manuscript to create for various reasons. Trying to keep to my subject matter what God the Father taught me about Himself through the love of a dog, when there was so much more to tell about our Romanian endeavours, hasn't been straightforward. Writing each chapter as a parable was equally challenging, but in the end I think I've managed to produce what has been within me since 2008. Finally, the emotion I experienced writing about this remarkable little dog was quite unexpected. On numerous occasions I would have to literally down tools and shed tears, while at other times I laughed out loud and so enjoyed reminiscing about happier moments with Snowbell. My desire is that "Miracle Dog; Miracle God" will make you laugh and cry, yet also instruct you about the amazing unconditional love of God. After all, that's exactly what happened to me when I was introduced to Snowbell, a beautiful gift from God to my life, if ever there was one.

Walking with Dog

Dogs are referred to as "man's best friend." They love their masters unconditionally, no matter how the master behaves. Even if the master has flaws, a dog will still show love and devotion. They are forgiving, compassionate, and attentive, and what do they ask in return? To be loved—simply, honestly, all a dog wants is to be loved. So what do dogs have to do with God? More than you might think! In Walking with Dog, Labrador enthusiast and dog lover Tom Vint provides an enlightening view of our loving housemates. He asks the question: What if God built human relationships with dogs as mirrors of God's relationship with His people? After all, God loves us unconditionally. God is willing to forgive our flaws. God is always attentive, and He only asks for our love in return. As Christians, we were all puppies once. We all had need of training and guidance in the ways of our Master. We were never perfect; we will never be perfect. Yet God gives us loving discipline to keep us on the right path, just as we do with our furry friends. There are heartwarming correlations between God and dogs, and Christian dog owners will relate. Dogs may be man's best friends, but we are God's best friends, and He is waiting to open His arms and love us.

Jesus and His Dog (Colored Version)

The Author truly believes that the dog is God's most perfect creation, and it shows by the unconditional love dog shows for man. This trait is not shown by any other creature and only shown in the relationship dog has with man, and is a gift from God to man. God is the only other that shows this unconditional love towards man, so the Author feels the dog is very special in God's eyes, even the name "Dog" is a reflection of the name "God". This book will touch on all your emotions, happiness, sadness, anger and in the final chapter this Author's vision of why dogs go to heaven, you will feel the unconditional love given to man only from God and Dog. We all have heard the Gospel stories of Jesus, but the Author tastefully injected a loving companion dog into some of these beautiful stories. He knew some might take offense with him messing with the Gospels, but he is a man of great faith as well as a dog parent, and he takes great pain in writing this book so as to not change the Gospel's real meaning. The best way to see if this book is for you is to hit the look inside button, and you will be able to read the full chapter before you buy. There are a few purely fictional chapters that were added, but they are respectfully written and take nothing from the scriptures.

The Dog That Talked to God

A wonderfully quirky, heart-breaking, heart-warming and thought-provoking story of a woman's dog who not only talks to her, he talks to God. Recently widowed Mary Fassler has no choice except to believe Rufus, the miniature schnauzer, who claims to speak to the Divine. The question is: Will Mary follow the dog's advice, and leave everything she knows and loves? Is this at the urging of God? Or is it something else? Will Mary risk it all or ignore the urgings of her own heart? "I loved this story. Quirky and unusual, this unique tale wove a spell around me and drew me in. It wasn't what I expected at all, and when I turned the last page, it left me wanting more." - Ane Mulligan, Sr. Editor of Novel Rocket

"The Dog That Talked to God is a moving and powerful read, inspirational long after the last page has been turned." - New York Journal of Books

For the Love of a Dog

Yes, humans and canines are different species, but current research provides fascinating, irrefutable evidence that what we share with our dogs is greater than how we vary. As behaviorist and zoologist Dr. Patricia McConnell tells us in this remarkable new book about emotions in dogs and in people, more and more scientists accept the premise that dogs have rich emotional lives, exhibiting a wide range of feelings including fear, anger, surprise, sadness, and love. In For the Love of a Dog, McConnell suggests that one of the reasons we love dogs so much is that they express emotions in ways similar to humans. After all, who can communicate joy better than a puppy? But not all emotional expressions are obvious, and McConnell teaches both beginning dog owners and experienced dog lovers how to read the more subtle expressions hidden behind fuzzy faces and floppy ears. For those of us who deeply cherish our dogs but are sometimes baffled by their behavior, For the Love of a Dog will come as a revelation—a treasure trove of useful facts, informed speculation, and intriguing accounts of man's best friend at his worst and at his very best. Readers will discover how fear, anger, and happiness underlie the lives of both people and dogs and, most important, how understanding emotion in both species can improve the relationship between them. Thus McConnell introduces us to the possibility of a richer, more rewarding relationship with our dogs. While we may never be absolutely certain what our dogs are feeling, with the help of this riveting book we can understand more than we ever thought possible. Those who consider their dogs part of the family will find For the Love of a Dog engaging, enlightening, and utterly engrossing.

So God Made a Dog

Every dog is different, but each loves his or her human in a special way. Often they are brave, noble, and strong. Sometimes they make us laugh, at them and at ourselves. Always they make us feel less alone and more loved. These ninety devotions will encourage and inspire you as you see how God is revealed in the antics and actions of our four-legged friends.

Lessons from a Sheep Dog

Follows the story of Lass, who is transformed from a believed-worthless and untrainable animal into a valuable sheepdog by a man's love, explaining how Lass's story reflects the transforming love of God.

What My Dog Taught Me About God

How can a dog make me think about God? Children love dogs, and these devotions will guide your child to build a relationship with God. By reading each devotion, your child will gain insight into how to interact with God. Using the love of a pet dog as an example, your child will remember to pray, read the Bible, and share the love of Jesus. The memory verses will encourage your child to focus on the theme of each devotion.

The Dog I Didn't Want

UNTIL ABBEE CAME INTO MY LIFE, I DIDN'T UNDERSTAND HOW WE COULD LOVE OUR ANIMALS SO MUCH; THAT IN FACT, THEY BECOME PART OF OUR FAMILY. THE FIRST PART OF THIS BOOK IS DEVOTED TO RELIVING OUR FAMILY'S LIFE WITH ABBEE... AND HOW A DOG THAT I INITIALLY WANTED NO PART OF, SOON WORKED HER WAY INTO MY HEART AND BECAME FOR ME, AS THOUGH SHE WERE MY FOUR-LEGGED DAUGHTER. ABBEE'S DEATH BROUGHT US GREAT SORROW. IT ALSO REMINDED ME ABOUT A MOST PERPLEXING BIBLICAL QUESTION-SOMETHING WHICH PROVED TO BE EVEN MORE UNSETTLING THAN HER DEATH. ORIGINALLY WRITTEN IN MY ATTEMPT TO FIND SOME MEASURE OF PEACE; THE SECOND PART OF THIS BOOK IS DEVOTED TO THE PRAYERFUL HOPING... THAT THROUGH GOD, THE DIVINE CREATOR OF ALL; THE ANIMALS WE'VE EACH LOVED DURING OUR EARTHLY LIFE; MAY BE GRANTED ENTRY, AND BE INCLUDED WITH US FOR ETERNAL LIFE IN HEAVEN.

The Dog who Walked with God

A Kato creation story in which our familiar world emerges from an empty, dark, and watery place so lonely that even the Creator needed a companion before setting foot there.

Psalms and Proverbs for Dogs

Two amazing things are true about dogs. Number one, the love that your dog has for you is as close as you will come on earth to the love that Jesus Christ has for you: unconditional. Number two, the relationship between a dog and his master is strikingly similar to the relationship between a believer in Jesus Christ and God. These two realizations got the wheels turning and were responsible for Psalms and Proverbs for Dogs. The parallels will make you laugh while also making you contemplate your relationship with your dog and God. Find joy, inspiration, and fruitful growth in both relationships through these verses.

Will I See My Dog in Heaven

For the cover of my first What Dog Lovers Know About God, I used a picture of Lyssie, who was my first cocker spaniel and who lived with me for nearly twenty years. In that photo, she looked as if she were listening to Jesus, and I have absolutely no doubt that she is with Him now. The picture on this sequel's cover is of Annie on the left and Gracie on the right, posed as if they are in class, eager to learn something. As any dog lover knows, however, dogs usually teach the owner more than the owner teaches the dogs. Through the invaluable relationship between a dog lover and a beloved dog, there is a lot of teaching and learning going on. The title of their class should be GOD 101: Introduction to God's love. After all, "dog" is "God" spelled backward, so it is no small wonder there is a correlation between the two; both give unconditional love, and where else in the universe can you find that? Dr. Brenda Ayres has been teaching British literature for nearly forty years and currently teaches graduate courses online for Liberty University. To date she has published 75 books, most of them scholarly and focused on eighteen- and nineteenth-century American and British literature. This is her second sequel of What Dog Lovers Know About God, with the hope that she will publish eight more sequels.

What Dog Lovers Know About God

A compilation of short stories reflecting God's unconditional love through two working cow dogs and their master. These short stories were written by Christian humor author William H. Cox. Cox effectively uses humor and these loving dogs to share with the reader the relationship between us and God. The stories are entertaining for the whole family and will captivate the audience all the way through. You will be left blessed beyond measure and a little nearer to the One who created you.

A Dog's Love: The Unconditional Love of

Saint Peter narrates a story that begins when God stops by the Pearly Gates and says, "I'm thinking of getting a dog." He asks Saint Peter for his opinion as to whether He should create the perfect dog from scratch or go over to Doggy Heaven to select one. Saint Peter suggests that God consider Mozart, a dachshund that Saint Peter has been watching and considers to be the funniest dog he has ever seen on earth. Mozart arrives in Heaven within the month and interviews with God to become His dog. Mozart's humor and total candor win God over and God asks Mozart if he would like to be His dog. Mozart asks that it be a package deal and that his younger brother, Elvis, who had died suddenly only a few days before Mozart, be allowed to stay as well. God says that Elvis can be Saint Peter's dog and help guard the Pearly Gates. Mozart and Elvis spend their time exploring Heaven, talking with saints, visiting God's Comedy Club, and searching for their roots and heroes. The best conversations are between God and Mozart, in which Mozart never runs out of questions and topics to discuss with God. Mozart and Elvis decide Heaven is really a wonderful place, but could be a little more dachshund friendly. Together they come up with the first suggestion list that God has ever received. These and other suggestions lead to what Saint Peter describes as the biggest change in Heaven since the addition of the Pearly gates. The ending is one that the reader will never forget. Filled with humor and poignant moments, GOD GETS A DOG will be enjoyed by everyone who loves God, likes dogs, and enjoys one of God's greatest gifts to humanity, our sense of humor.

God Gets a Dog

This book emphasizes the many human traits and expressions that we share with our dogs. Because we connect with them so easily, their easy going nature and positive attitude draws them into our lives with ease, assuming their position in our families with their unconditional love. Dogs are the perfect reflection of God's unconditional love. A Dog's Love is a compilation of how God has used three different dogs and their personalities in my life to reveal His love and character. Cowgirl, Merl and Frank all have unique personalities and yet a common thread of unconditional love that is common with all dogs. You will see the similarities with your dogs through this journey of short stories. I believe that God sent these loyal and devoted animals as companions in the hopes that we could embrace the humble childlike love that flows out of them as a reflection of how we should love like they do.

A Dog's Love

First appearing on YouTube, the video of Francisco's charming animated illustrations and moving song tells of the unconditional love of both God and Dog. Now in book format, the touching narrative will be expanded through additional lyrics, illustrations, photographs, and some of the powerful mail that is continually being sent to Francisco.

God and Dog

Does God Have a Favorite Pet Dog? is a story of a little seven-year-old girl with a great love for her pet. In her imagination, she wants to believe God has a pet just like her dog. However, there is some doubt remaining in her mind. She talks to her close friends, and they all believe God has a favorite pet just like their pet. The story ends with the mother of one of her friends telling the children the story of God and Noah's ark. Everyone joins in the fun with a Noah's ark party. The mother tells them they are all special and loved by God.

Does God Have a Favorite Pet Dog?

This book is written for those millions of people who believe dogs are truly a gift from God the Father who made Heaven and Earth and all of Creation. Do you believe your dog will be in heaven? God's word shows us that they will be. How about you? God=Love=Dog explains the differences between the human's soul and dog's soul and how you can make it to heaven to see God and his special creation he made just for you, your best friend, the dog.

God=Love=Dog

This is a book about a pet dog who came into a family of three young boys. The dog's name was Buster. He was a great dog. He was a friend. He was a member of the family. God gave Buster to us, and God took Buster when it was time. How much we loved Buster, and he loved us even more. This book tells how great was our benefit when we had Buster, and how blessed we were to have known him.

Buster, Our Friend, Our Dog, a Gift from God

For 14 years, a small, round hound named Mojo provided her reluctant master a front-row seat to life's most profound lessons. With his trademark humor and depth of insight, popular speaker, author, and pet owner Phil Callaway shares stories that showcase such virtues as... Forgiveness. "When my marriage needed repair, I noticed at least one creature in our home was quick to forgive." Servanthood. "In a selfish culture, my dog's world is centered on others." Grace. "Mojo is 14 now. The end is never easy, but she'll leave a legacy of loyalty, commitment, and faithfulness that we'll celebrate for years to come." As you enjoy these slices of life from a gifted storyteller, you'll notice even more of the important but sometimes easy-to-miss meaning in the daily routines and events of your own life.

Four Paws from Heaven

God's Lessons Through My Dog, Zander: How God used a rescue dog to herd me back to Him. I confess Jesus to the world, and in turn, He will confess me to the Father (Matthew 10:32). This is my story of how a loving God and a frightened rescue dog combined forces to remind me of why I love Jesus and why life is better with Him. This is my testimony of heavenly power and promise. I am loved by a heavenly Father, and you are too! If you have ever labeled yourself an unworthy prodigal child-rebellious, lukewarm-come and read what I have learned. Seek, and you will find the Way to the only home you will ever need. Please bring your dog, because they are welcome too! God tells me, and I tell Zander: "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Matthew 28:20 KJV). Merrilynn and Zander moved to rural Virginia almost three years ago from the east coast of Florida. Before that, she was a native of Vermont. She says of herself that she grew up Protestant in a Catholic town and converted to Catholicism in a Protestant town in Missouri. God is the same wherever you live and no respecter of persons.

Pawz and Pray

This is a book about the journey of Caleb, an English talking dog, and his mom who travel to the Philippines and around the United States and England. Book two is for children ages twelve and upwards until death takes us hopefully home to heaven. The theme of this book is based on Hosea 4:6. It is about the good and bad attitudes and practices of varying people and their cultures. It will address the dangers of playing around with sorcery and magic and witchcraft in so-called harmless readings and movies, which are dangerous and dead against the Holy Bibles teaching. God does not approve of such activities! It does not please God for people to indulge in certain such practices. This book will try to explain why it is so important to preserve the moral values and ethics of previous generations and train up our children in the way they should be raised (Prov. 22:6) in order to have good moral values and ethics and, therefore, how to have better wisdom and happier lives. Some people are very nice and try to please God, but they are simply ignorant of such topics. By following after the teachings and footsteps of Jesus Christ and some of the Old Testament in the Bible, you can be taught how to achieve the wisdom to do the above to the best of your ability. It takes a lot of courage to be a good Christian. It is better to be a good Christian than to be politically correct. Jesus believed that in his day, and it is still true for any generation. We are to be in the world and not of the world. We are supposed to pay our bills and follow the laws of our country. We are to teach our children correct morals in the world. When we put money, fame, material things, friendships, or anything ahead of God Almighty, that is of the world and is a form of idolatry. Thou shall have no other gods before me (Ex. 20:3). The Caleb is an example of how a good Christian tries to be. Most children and a lot of adults love dogs. Dogs can be wonderful. Why not learn from a good Christian dog?

Lessons God Taught Me Through My Dog, Zander

We live in an amazing Universe. Sometimes things happen in our lives where we have no idea of just how that experience will change our lives from that moment on. Like having a dog. They give us love. We give them love. And they make us better just because we loved them. But there's more. Lots more. Behind the outward affection and love we share with them, come lessons about love, about life and about ourselves that would not and could not have happened unless our dog was in our life. Yet there's a surprise. It's a message your most beloved best friend wants you to know, a message you may never have realized. It's the way you changed your best friend's life. You see, you and your dog didn't come into each other's lives by accident. Oh no. It's much bigger than that. It was on purpose. You both chose each other. Now, you're about to understand why.

"The Caleb"

Have you watched in awe as dogs performed amazing feats in dog events on TV? Do you wonder, "Why can't my dog listen to me like that? How do those people get their dogs to respond so quickly and accurately?" Margie Clutter has trained and competed with her dogs in obedience, agility, herding and flyball. Her Border Collie, Winthrop Ysabel (Belle), has earned the Border Collie Society of America Versatility Award. Margie writes with an insider's look at the relationship between dogs in competition and their owners, offering training tips for you to improve your relationship with your dog. But she doesn't stop there. Oftentimes we respond to God in the same way our dogs respond to us--confused, distracted, or downright disobedient! Can we learn about obedience, teamwork and relationship with God by observing our dogs? Margie's strong Christian faith has given her a unique perspective on the relationship between dog and handler, human and God. The result is this collection of practical, Scriptural modern-day parables for spiritual growth in your relationship with God. "I fell in love with this fascinating book after reading the first few chapters...a great resource!" Dr. Stephen Schwambach, pastor, author

Good Dogs

The Bible tells us in John that Jesus said that he is going to prepare a place for us in heaven so that we can be where he is. This book takes the imagination to the next level in creating houses for each family and all of the dogs they had growing up are there to share eternity with them. This story revolves around the life of one particular person and all the dogs she had and knew growing up even into her adult life. The dogs can now converse like human people and are working with people in heaven showing how all of creation comes together as one to work together for the glory of God. Each canine member of the house in this family enjoys sitting around and telling the funny stories that happened during their lifetime with their person and how it always seems to reflect God's direction for his purpose.
