And We all Listened We all Had an Awareness of the Resources That Came behind Us so We Had One Conversation We Thought about Our Own Areas and We Thought about Related Areas That Weren't Present and Then We Could Follow Up as Needed so that We Were Trying To Be Most Efficient of the Faculty's Valuable Time and Also Working Together as a Group and that Seemed To Work Well and We Didn't Do that We Couldn't Have Done that with every Faculty

We See Firsthand What that Research Process Is Really Like for Students so Part of It Is What They Don't Know Part of It Is How Overwhelmed They Feel and I Think Communicating that Back Can Be Really Important and Departments Are Very Interested To Hear Oh Is that Really Hard for Them Okay and that Allows Them To Kind Of Let It Seep into Their Own Teaching I'M Curious Odl You Mentioned about You Know Talking to Students Finding Out What They'Re Overwhelmed with or What Their Process Is that that that They Use and I'M Curious in the Group Do We Use Things like Focus Groups with Students To Ask those Very Questions To Get Input on What Are the Challenges Again from the User Perspective

Do We Use Things like Focus Groups with Students To Ask those Very Questions To Get Input on

What Are the Challenges Again from the User Perspective That Were Regularly Feeding that into Our Thinking about the Actions That We Might Take or How We Refine Our Processes so You Know Do We Take Use It as an Opportunity in a Way To Do some Research around What those Issues Are that Our Users Face and I Think There's Great Opportunity There As Well To Really Learn from Our Students beyond Just a One on One Interaction How Can We Do that a Bit More Systematically And There Strikes Me There's a Story There about the Impact of Not Know Having those Skills on the Ability To Sort of You Know Be Fully Professional and the Part about You Know We'Re Developing Technology Sort Of Based Course Systems and How We Can Build that into in Other Words Connect the Idea that in Order To Really Do What You Want To Do in Life You Need To Know this to Just Sort Of Be as a Platform to the Sort of Build a Kinsman Force and Then to You Know Figure Out Where the Value That Libraries Can Have in that

The Idea that in Order To Really Do What You Want To Do in Life You Need To Know this to Just Sort Of Be as a Platform to the Sort of Build a Kinsman Force and Then to You Know Figure Out Where the Value That Libraries Can Have in that Process so the Question Is about the Integration How We Think about in a Way Finding that Place Where We Can Integrate these Systems More Effectively by Really Focused on the Kinds of Skills That We Want Our Students To Develop Thoughts from the Panel

' S an Architectural Dimension a Technological Dimension in Human Dimension to that As Well so I Think the Interesting Puzzle with the Integration Is There's Been Kind of a Firewall between Faculty and Libraries Where the Faculty Have Said Well the Library Does the Knowledge Finding and We Do the Meaning Making but in Fact Who Are Richly Interlinked and both Sides Need To Be Working Together To Accomplish both Tasks Literally the Time Now We Have To Really Make Inroads in that Integration Other Comments from the Panel I Think It's a Really Important Question That You Ask and I Think Again It Picks Up on Chris's
