Where Duty Calls: Building Bridges of Hope Over 130 Years

Coloring is not only relaxing and fun, it has been shown to increase focus, reduce anxiety and stress and support well-being. For children who have experienced trauma, and the adults who care for them, simple everyday tools that enhance healing are worth their weight in gold. In this unique coloring book, nationally known child welfare and trauma expert Sue Badeau pairs tips and strategies for parents and caregivers with whimsical artwork created by her daughter, artist Chelsea Badeau. With over fifty unique images to color, and an equal number of proven activities, this book provides a rich resource for anyone on the road to healing and wholeness. "No matter how deep the trauma, there is always hope. Children can heal," Badeau teaches, "and caring adults equipped with meaningful tools create those bridges of hope."

Each paper in this collection draws attention to the core of common values that should undergird education, practice, and research or by highlighting the rich variations that make group work so powerful and artistic a helping medium. Basic precepts and values that drive group work regardless of membership or setting are highlighted throughout the collection. The danger of increasing manualization and sound-byte process is noted, and appeals are made for stronger efforts to stem the tide. Examples of effective practice and diversity of application are offered, along with reflections on some of the challenges to practice in a techno world. Models of successful collaboration including cross-cultural exchanges are presented; and dynamics of membership and leadership are studied for their capacity to contribute to success on both micro and macro stages. This book will be of interest to everyone who works with groups from the clinical to the community setting and from the small-circle focus to the global stage.

North Korea, Asia's tragic and prodigal son, is long overdue returning to the embrace of the international community—if only the political and military powers have the courage to seize it. For 60 years North Korea has had neither war nor peace; simply an Armistice signed in 1953—it is this lack of resolution that has perpetuated instability, fear, and a risk of further tragedy. Behind the backdrop is the ever-present danger of a major conflict and this book suggests that there is a better way to relate to the pariah state. There are many issues to be addressed, including serious concerns over the grave, systematic, and widespread violation of human rights, reported executions, torture, violations of religious freedom, and humanitarian concerns. Although the obstacles are gigantic, there is still hope for a better future and this book argues that through patient but firm engagement, this situation is capable of resolution.

Distinguishing between an antipathy toward a decaying political ideology and a love of the dignified and courageous Korean people must remain the central concern—one must encourage the tiny shoots of hope and, above all, build bridges through constructive, critical engagement.

This book of poetry covers life, love, laughter, forgiveness, peace, pleasure, courage, inspiration, faith, hope, and empowerment. It shares valuable stories and experiences that many people, irrespective of their age, gender, race, color, ethnicity, or religion can relate to. It is this author's hope that the reader can find joy, peace, inspiration, and courage in reading this work.

Building Bridges

When the author found herself in a critical, life-changing moment, she utilized her social work background, spirituality, and relationships with friends and family to not just survive, but thrive with passion and compassion. Applying the Principles she modeled from her Nana, who lived to be 103 and a half years old, she turned a family crisis into a journey of friendship, love, respect, and acceptance. This is a story of two people who threw out the divorce rule book, a wife who supported her husband through his coming-out process, parents who stayed focused on their daughter, and a family who built a bridge to hope and healing. From the moment a crisis hits, you get thrown into a fog—often feeling alone and confused, and not knowing which way to turn. Building bridges is about creating connections, establishing relationships, and obtaining resources to help yourself. Whether dealing with a health issue, struggling with addiction, the loss of a job, suicide of a loved one, a natural disaster, or the death of a family member, The Bridge to Hope & Healing® helps you construct the framework necessary to build your bridge of hope and move towards healing. This book is a guide featuring: 9 Principles to transform a moment of crisis by fostering a vision and moving it to action; Tips & Techniques for a variety of practices, underscoring that healing is a process and comes from within; Bridge Reflections to provide inspiration to reflect, be present, and focus on building a bridge; and Journal Prompts to navigate the journey and apply the concepts to a unique circumstance. The Bridge to Hope & Healing® provides the reader with a sense of hope to build a bridge and shape a path across a moment of crisis so that adversity does not negatively shape their life. The approach is adaptable to individual needs and dispositions and will further stimulate ideas for creating their own strategies.

In this time of world turmoil and extreme misunderstanding, often through ignorance, comes Imam Douglas Owen-Ali, a Jamaican turned ambassador for peace. In this book of recorded lessons from the teachings of Islam, Imam Ali shows how the real interpretation of Islam can influence the very opposite of what the world has been minded to accept since 9/11. From Muhammad Ali to Louis Farrakhan, Imam Ali records his Islamic journey and his role in mending the bridges between Islam and Judaism. Here is his life's struggle for oneness, equality and justice.

The idea for this book began to form in my mind when, in a rather rare moment of solitude, I stood on a high bluff overlooking the Pacific Ocean contemplating a lovely Southern California sunset. As I gazed to the horizon at the vivid red and orange hues of the setting sun, a gentle sea breeze carried to my ears the faint whispers of my ancestors, imploring me from across the ages to pen the words that would chronicle their struggles. It seemed to me significant that their efforts, which most certainly influenced and shaped my life, would now provide me the inspiration to write this book. Thus, I made the decision to embark upon this story, which I hope will serve not only as an enduring testimonial to the trials and tribulations of my forebears, but also as a guide to inspire others to share their life experiences through the written word. In the northern part of the South American continent, in the Andean Mountains the longest mountain range in the world I was born the fifth of eleven siblings. My given name is Luca Fabiola Giraldo Estrada Botero Vega Restrepo Londoo, a cultural tradition in Latin America to instill in us a sense of heritage, so we will never forget our roots going back at least three generations. This narrative contains both humorous and serious anecdotes. It includes ancient wisdom, poetry, and songs in Spanish and English that still resonate in my heart, chart the course of my life, and sustain me. The people I have met in my tireless and frequent journeys across hemispheres have transformed my life: world leaders in politics, religion, business, community building, and the arts. I especially want to share events that deeply moved me in sacred places and paid homage alongside believers, including Cistercian monks, Shamans, Muslims, Hindus, Buddhists, Christians, and Jews all of whom contributed to and nourished my spiritual being. As a woman, an immigrant, a minority by public definition, a Latina or Hispanic, I faced many challenges in finding the courage to venture into the international business arena, and travel across the world mostly alone to follow my vision. I finally overcame them. It is far better to explore problems rather than become paralyzed by them. Spanish is my mother language and I learned English later in life. While writing this book, the two languages collided at times, as I journeyed to the depths of my heart to dig into my feelings and describe my life experiences. Discovering a new world is an adventure worthy of the many challenges. The reasons are obvious: it requires money, time, and determination, the uncertainty of a new destination, different cultures and traditions, the strangers you will meet along the way and the unexpected outcomes are part of the unknown challenges you will encounter. I have been to remote and exotic places, from the north to the south of the American continent, from the Bearing to the Magellan Straits, and across the Americas. From the east to the west of five continents crossing the Gibraltar Strait between Africa and Europe and sailing the South Pacific Islands, the Mediterranean, Indian, China, and the Caribbean Seas. To south and east of the African continent on safaris or visiting secluded villages and mountains to work on behalf of child education programs with the purpose of teaching them to survive, to preserve the environment, and to protect endangered species. My legacy and life's mission is to contribute to humanity, to collaborate in building bridges of hope and understanding between people who respect each other's differences and value each other's shared humanity. These are the bridges that people of all cultures must build, restore, and cross together to reach the land of unity and peace for all. My multifaceted life gave me the courage I needed to undertake this story-telling mission, and my spiritual walk gave me guidance, inspiration, and the strength Loving the Enemy tells the compelling true story of Fred Clayton, a grammar schoolboy from Liverpool, and brilliant Cambridge scholar, who leaves the comfort of the halls of Cambridge at the beginning of the Nazi era and makes a troubled journey to discover first-hand what life must be like to live under the despotic regime. Arriving in Dresden, he develops a friendship with a German family that will change his life. Through the course of the next decade, with his and their nations at war, Fred will not forget the connections that have been made and refuses to allow hate to win. After the war, with Dresden in ruins, reflecting his own state of mind, Fred writes to the same German family. Will he find the healing, love and redemption he seeks? "It is my hope that, thanks to Andy's efforts, the story will inspire you as much as it has inspired me, and that it will find its place as a signpost, even a landmark, along the path of reconciliation, trust and love which links Coventry and Dresden; Britain and Germany." (Christopher Cocksworth, Bishop of Coventry, from the Foreword) "A wonderful story. Family history and perseverance to do the right thing. Found it hard to put it down. Fabulously written." "This is a compelling, well written biography with many attributes of a thriller that I couldn't put down. I highly recommend it." "I absolutely loved this book. It is a page-turning true life story of two fascinating people, Fred and Rike, living through the tumultuous 1930s and 1940s. It is a real human story, and I came to love the key characters." "This story is truly compelling and beautifully written. It is gritty, honest and deeply moving, giving new insights into both sides of the war. Highly recommended!"

At a time when traditional church institutions are eroding, how are Christians at the grassroots responding to the challenge of change? Is there new hope coming from the grassroots? How can local churches re-engage with their neighbourhoods in a plural society? What is effective Christian witness today? These are some of the questions behind Jeanne Hinton's down-to-earth account of a journey across England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales. Starting from real human experiences and struggles, she meets congregations and Christian initiatives of every shape and their stories are vivid, touching, realistic and surprising. "Changing Churches" is an opportunity to meet some of the 40 Christian communities that took part in a three-year ecumenical learning experiment called "Building Bridges of Hope". Through encouragement and accompaniment they discovered that their gifts and vulnerabilities were very much part of God's purposes. That Jesus Christ lives with us in the everyday. That ordinary situations are the material of extraordinary possibilities. This book is a story of real encouragement for local churches. You do not have to be big, glamorous or special to see the Gospel of love come alive in everyday situations - but you do have to be prepared to persist. "Changing Churches" means long-term commitment, not quick-fix solutions.

Nostalgia--Chuckles--Wisdom--Lessons from Life--Building Bridges That's what thirty members of the Bridge Builders class at Forest Lake Seventh-day Adventist Church share with the reader. Faced with the challenge, "Everybody has a story--what's yours?" these writers open their lives through their stories, whether it is a mini-autobiography or a vignette of a never-to-be-forgotten experience. Stories hold us together. Young and not-so-young readers will be reminded that even though circumstances may be different today than years ago, the principle still holds true that "Young people still rise to our expectation of them." Will Allen Dromgoole writes of an old man who, after crossing a stream, built a bridge. When questioned why he would do such a thing after he had already crossed, he replied, " . . . there followeth after me today a youth whose feet must pass this way . . . Good friend, I am building the bridge for him." That's what we hope these stories will do--Build Bridges! Loving the Enemy - building bridges in a time of war

Charged Convicted and Condemned, thrown into life as a young mother at the age of just 15 years old. Jacqueline La-Touché was faced with the prejudice of being a teenage mother, feeling that she had to prove to her parents, and others, most of all herself that she could be the best mother that she could for her child. While she was still proving her worth, her life was rocked by yet another big decision that any girl, or woman could make in their life. In 1982 her parents immigrated to Jamaica, to fulfill their dreams, leaving her behind, and not knowing that their daughter would experience the unexpected and unknown, Life became a day to day battle, and one long nightmare, for this young mother. Destined for a life of hardship and heartache. Depravation haunted her life each day, a reminder of where she was, Nowhere'. Loveless and abusive relationships, played their part in her life, she felt trapped by her situation, as she remembered sayings of "you made your bed, so you lay in it"

From 1997 to 2011, Mary McAleese has served as President of Ireland, and become one of the most popular Presidents Ireland has ever known. Representing Ireland on the world stage through the highs of the Celtic Tiger and the lows of recent years, she has sounded a voice that is trusted and respected and has become one of the finest examples of what Ireland could and should be. Her tenure, focussing on the building of bridges, creating an inclusive society, celebrating all the peoples of Ireland, is mapped out here in a book that will become a touchstone for all those who have lived through these times. Containing all key speeches that have shaped the 14-year term of President Mary McAleese.

Building Bridges with Your Teenagers

Are you ready to lead people to an encounter with Jesus Christ? Do you hope to form them as disciples and good stewards? Are you ready to build a parish community in which people grow as members of Christ's body, from which they are sent as missionary disciples? Building Bridges to the Heart of Discipleship is the first workbook in the Bridges Leadership Series. The book includes a link to specially-prepared videos and worksheet masters for duplication. While each workbook may be used independently, this first book presents foundational concepts and exercises that will be beneficial for all who serve as informal or formal parish leaders. Building Bridges to the Heart of Discipleship is rooted in Catholic theological and pastoral tradition and is built upon the foundation of research and the best practices of parishes throughout North America. The Bridges series will lead you through what you need to know, think about, plan for, and do in order to transform your parish into an engaging community of faith, leading people to live Christ's mission in the world. Are you ready to begin building an engaging and evangelizing community? Let's get started.

From Chapter 5: "By a quirk of fate," says Darcie Conner Johnston, the eruption [of Mt. Vesuvius in 79 AD] caught Pompeii at a time of great spiritual change. As a gateway south and east to Greece and Egypt and the Eurasian landmass beyond, the city was heir to a panoply of faiths. A host of foreign gods had begun to usurp the positions of the venerable Olympian deities and the imperial Roman pantheon. Christians were likely to have been here as well, though the evidence of their presence is sketchy. (Page 71 of Pompeii: The Vanished City) Besides the evidence that has already been presented more remains to demonstrate that once again the accepted historical point of view is incorrect. For example.... This second volume of Building Bridges of Time, Places and People presents the overwhelming evidence that some of the most prominent leaders of the New Testament Church left the lands of Judea and Galilee when war between Rome and the Jews seemed certain, and they settled in Pompeii and Herculaneum. These leaders included Simon Peter, Paul, Luke, and John Mark, the author of The Gospel of Mark. They were accompanied by converts such as Cornelius the centurion, who was the first Gentile to be baptized, and by the mother of Christ. This volume also investigates the town of Sepphoris in Galilee and makes a compelling case for the claim that the Messiah of the New Testament grew up there rather than in Nazareth, his identity hidden until he began his ministry at the age of 30.

Recently, there has been growing interest in understanding the benefits of creative therapies for people from all kinds of backgrounds. These therapies are beneficial for reducing anxiety, stress, and depressive symptoms and have the potential to enhance the outcomes of special populations of individuals in vulnerable situations. Further study on the future directions as well as challenges associated with these therapies is required to ensure they are utilized appropriately. Exploring the Benefit of Creative Arts Therapies for Children, Adolescents, and Adults discusses the benefits of creative arts therapies for children, adolescents, and adults. The book also looks individually and collectively at the boon of art therapy, dance therapy, music, and drama therapy for improving outcomes for typically developing individuals and for vulnerable populations. Covering key topics such as dance, anxiety, and trauma, this premier reference source is ideal for therapists, social workers, psychologists, mental health counselors, researchers, scholars, academicians, practitioners, instructors, and students.

Building Bridges Not Walls

The devastation of COVID, the impact of lockdowns helped to confirm what many people, businesses and institutions had been quietly thinking about for some time. That society needs to lift its game in making wiser choices and aspire to leave a better legacy to the future. BIG FIXES is about how we, the citizens, the customers and the institutions, all need to adopt a bigger perspective on the consequences of our choices and strengthen our resolve to build bridges to an inclusive future. That means finding better ways to run the economy. Hence, we are mindful of future generations to nurture and enhance respectful social relationships and be front footed to keeping the planet safe. BIG FIXES speaks to why we need to rebuild trust across society - especially between people and institutions - and the importance of having more accountability to the long term consequences flowing from decisions made by institutions on our behalf. Infrastructure is an excellent starting point to make big changes in rebuilding trust. But if your vision of infrastructure is roads, bridges, tunnels, schools and hospitals, then your vision is too narrow. BIG FIXES will widen your perspective about infrastructure as the gift that current generations pay forward to future generations. When we invest in infrastructure, we are expressing hope and optimism for the future. However, investing in infrastructure today also creates the future because good infrastructure empowers human beings to trust and collaborate - unleashing human ingenuity and creativeness that fashions the future. BIG FIXES thoughtfully critiques governments and big businesses who are responsible for the long-term well-being of our societies. The book's thoughtful view of infrastructure policy pierces through the political obsession with how much should be spent and focuses instead on the principles and competencies needed to restore infrastructure globally so we can all live well and enjoy better livelihoods. There is no shortage of reports, papers and books about every conceivable aspect of infrastructure, but experts have acclaimed BIG FIXES as different. Garry Bowditch steps back from the 'what' and the 'how' and instead asks 'why'. It is a personal reflection of a career in government, as a deal maker in business and a university researcher. BIG FIXES gives a unique 'inside-out' perspective to understand what we do well and the enormous room for improvement. Infrastructure investors committed to self-improving should heed the call of BIG FIXES. Garry Bowditch highlights the cross-over of infrastructure owners and the importance of stakeholder primacy and customer stewardship to strengthen ESG (Environment, Social and Governance) practices as fiduciaries of capital. The time has come for all non-executive directors, politicians, officials, engineers, lawyers, architects and economists involved in infrastructure to fulfil their duties more consistently in orchestrating long term change. BIG FIXES recognises the many challenges and clarifies minds about what is vital to transforming businesses and projects grounded on great collaborations and opening the gates of human ingenuity. New technologies and digitisation of infrastructure services are a powerful ally in putting customers back in control. BIG FIXES will engage and provoke all stakeholders with insights, examples and the customer stewardship framework to start building bridges to a better future for all. Infrastructure is the fabric beneath us that fuses communities to find renewed purpose, collaborate in making a difference, and secure goodwill and posterity for all. There is absolutely no room to compromise from these precious qualities, only to strengthen them. Yet, because none of these is assured, is reason enough why BIG FIXES is urgently needed now.

Examines current issues facing the Anglican Communion through the prism of the history of the Southern African church and people. Through this combined narrative of the global and local church, the author offers a remarkable story combining history, race, class and culture in Africa. He traces the paradigm shift in Anglicanism as its vitality moves beyond the borders of England and America to the global South, with all the theological implications. Today, South African Anglicanism attempts a middle way through crucial issues like HIV/AIDS, poverty, and human sexuality. Ideal for those interested in inculturation - the intersection of church, culture, and ethnicity.

Using Stories to Build Bridges with Traumatized Children is full of creative ideas for how you can use stories therapeutically with children in counselling, life story work or direct work. Psychologist Kim S. Golding shows how you can use stories to build connections with children aged 4–16 and support their recovery from trauma and stress. She illustrates the techniques with 21 stories adapted from her own clinical work with children and families, and explains how you can expand or adapt them to make them more relevant for a particular child. Advice and stories are arranged into sections dealing with common psychological issues, including looking back and moving on, lack of trust and need for attention. Golding also gives invaluable tips for planning stories and life story work, and for storymaking with children. She also describes how stories can be used therapeutically with parents of traumatized children and as a tool for self-reflection by counsellors. Imaginative and practical, this book will be enormously useful for counsellors, psychologists, therapists and social workers working with traumatized children, and will also be helpful for parents and carers involved in therapeutic parenting.

These essays by leading Latino/a theologians, both Protestant and Catholic, represent an exciting new stage in the development of Latino/a theological identity, while also making an important contribution to the wider cause of ecumenical dialogue. As Orlando Espn observes, "No ecumenical relation or dialogue today in the United States can be truly reflective of our respective churches unless Latinos/as (and their faith and their lives) are acknowledged as indispensable and equal conversation partners." Among the themes discussed in this dialogue: God, the Holy Spirit, Mary, the Bible and Tradition, Grace and Justification, and Ecclesiology. Contributors: Efran Agoso (Hartford Seminary); Neomi DeAnda (DePaul University); Miguel H. Daz (St. John's University, Collegeville); Orlando O. Espn (University of San Diego); Roberta S. Why don't they believe the same things I do? Why don't they see things my way? We get frustrated when people hold differing opinions from ours or view life's major issues from conflicting angles. Their system of belief (their worldview) seems foreign to us as they filter the events of this world in ways that we would never have imagined and then come to conclusions that we would never even consider. When other peoples' worldviews contradict ours, both of us cannot be right. Is there a way to account for the differences and determine if one is right and the other wrong? For the Christian especially, can we defend the Christian worldview in a way that upholds our entire system of belief and then opens the door to share the gospel with those who believe differently from us? The method of worldview apologetics enables the Christian to expose the faults in other worldviews, demonstrate the truth of the Christian worldview, and build a bridge for others to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ. Both scholarly and practical, worldview apologetics equips the Christian to assess and critique differing belief systems and fulfill the call to Great Commission outreach.

Mending Broken Bridges

Josephine "Josie" Hunter never thought in a million years that she would be on the dating scene again. She married young, had a baby and was set on living out her happily ever after but life had different plans for her. Her loving husband, Michael, passed away and now her son is heading off to college in the fall. She was trying her hardest to fulfill her promise to her late husband by trying to move on with her life but she was doing this at a snail's pace. The day of Darien's return changed Josie's life forever with his news that he was now married. Josie was devastated and to add salt to her open wound Darien told her his new wife and her father were coming over for dinner. Josie gets dinner ready for her brand new in laws with the help of understandably nervous Marcella. Finally, the time has come to meet Darien's wife, Jordan. Josie was nearly at ease until Jordan and her father entered the house. Jordan's father was none other than Kelly Alpin, the only other man Josie loved.

Drop the Charges and You Can Go Free

The book entitled Drop the Charges and You Can Go Free Breaking the Chains of Un-Forgiveness gives an insight on the pain and the problems that holding on to past grudges and offensives can cause. It enlightens the reader of the benefits of forgiveness and its power to reconcile our families 'friends' churches and communities. It gives steps that will lead to the wonderful power of the healing grace of God and the restoration for men and women in every walk of life. This book is a reflection of the steps that Joyce Hawkins took to be set free from many of her disappointing experiences in her life, and how she gained great victory through her loving Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. In this book Joyce Hawkins extends a hand of help to the needy, a heart of compassion to the hurting and broken, and a message of empowerment to the oppressed and disenfranchised.

Wealthy Appetite

"Wealthy Appetite: First the People and Money Will Follow" is an inspiring yet poignant tale set in South Africa during the apartheid era. The protagonist, Thabo Mokoena, is a black entrepreneur with a deep passion for technology and innovation. Dreaming of running a tech company, he faces the harsh realities of an oppressive system that limits black people to certain types of businesses, hindering his ambitions. Undeterred, Thabo develops a revolutionary software, recognizing the potential risks posed by the corrupt, racist system. To safeguard his creation, he sells it to a U.S. company, securing a substantial sum that he uses to invest in a local soccer team. His involvement transforms the team, providing them with resources, exposure, and a sense of pride. Thabo's investment extends beyond the team to the entire community, symbolizing hope and success. However, Thabo's success draws the ire of Markus van der Merwe and other white capitalists, who feel threatened by his accomplishments and influence. They conspire against him, orchestrating a scandal with the help of a bank manager, Leah Nkosi, falsely accused of aiding Thabo in financial misdeeds. This scheme leads to Thabo's public disgrace, the seizure of his assets, and his brief imprisonment. The story takes a turn following the end of apartheid in 1994. Thabo, now released from jail, adopts a pseudonym and quietly rebuilds his business empire. His resilience and unwavering commitment to his community and ideals shine through, as he lays the foundation for a new era of growth and opportunity in a free South Africa. "Wealthy Appetite" is a narrative of struggle, resilience, and the power of hope and community in the face of overwhelming adversity.

Rose Bretano's world has fallen apart. Not only does her boyfriend leave, but the pillars of her working world also crumble. Unexpectedly gifted with a temporary, out-of-the-ordinary love experience, Rose's life takes a twist. She sets out to find meaning, not aware that her life has become a microcosm of a world in transition. Caught in a tug-of-war between her old world and a new one, she faces the ups and downs of a pioneer. When the pull threatens to tear her apart, Rose exiles herself from democracy. Leaving Germany for England, she spends happy years as a writer, but then her money runs out. Cut short from her life as an artist and unable to merge back to her old life, she's confronted with a devastating decision. Jeff Wagner, a good-looking American, who's divorced, a thwarted poet and journalist, crosses her path and tries to liberate Rose from her fate. She refuses, but leaves him her manuscript with the words, "Read, and if you still think you can help, come back!" On a quest to find the key to Rose's heart, Jeff must first confront his own past. "True liberation for women implies the liberation of men," he reads. It dawns on him that Rose's betterment requires his own evolution. Can he live up to the hopes of a woman equipped with a road map for the future? And, will he agree to the changing role for men in the dawning era of women?

In the journey of life, we encounter twists and turns, unexpected obstacles, moments of complacency and doubt, as well as beautiful peaks of joy, love, and inspiration. This collection seeks to capture the essence of life's fabric through poems focused on principles and concepts that shape us at our core. Divided into three sections, the book opens with a series of poems reflecting on the ups and downs we face, the resilience and determination to push through challenges to achieve our highest dreams. Titles like "Getting Through It to Get to It" depict the necessity of perseverance, while "I Got Through It and Got to It" celebrates the triumphs and growth that emerge on the other side. These serve as a prelude to the main body of the collection: an epic series of 52 poems titled "52 Spiritual Principles," which focuses on embracing virtues and practices to enrich our lives on the journey. Principles like surrender, honesty, courage, awareness, and love are brought to light through poetic form, connected to inspirations from everyday acts of kindness to biblical scriptures and parables. Readers can reflect weekly on absorbing these universal lessons to tap into shared sources of truth, empathy, and understanding. Finally, the book culminates with a 12-part poem sequence dramatizing the 12 Steps, the guiding philosophy for recovery from life's darkest moments back into light. The final piece offers a holistic take on the collection, reminding us while life's terrain may continually change, the journey centered in courage and spiritual growth never ends. This collection offers readers many access points for self-reflection, whether focusing on one thing that resonates or soaking up all inspiration. It is the myix hope that, among these pages, readers discover not only empathy but ignite that inner spark to persevere through all manner of twists and turns, wherever the road of life leads next.

True Love Is My Country

As the last embers of December settle and the world stands poised on the precipice of a new year, a unique magic takes hold. A collective breath is drawn, anticipation simmering like the fragrant spices in a celebratory feast. In this liminal space, between the echoes of the past and the unfurling tapestry of tomorrow, lies the heart of New Year's: a potent brew of traditions, reflections, and hope that has intoxicated humanity for millennia. This book is your invitation to embark on a journey through this captivating holiday, not just across continents and cultures, but into the very essence of what it means to begin anew. We'll trace the vibrant tapestry of New Year's customs, from the ancient Babylonian whispers of time reborn to the raucous carnival energy of Rio de Janeiro, each thread revealing a facet of this multifaceted gem. We'll delve into the symbolic depths of this fresh start, unpacking the universal human yearning for renewal, forgiveness, and the audacity to dream of better tomorrows. The pages that follow are not simply a dry chronicle of facts and figures. They are an invitation to introspection, a catalyst for self-discovery. We'll explore the power of looking back, not with regret, but with a mindful eye, gleaning lessons and appreciating the journey that has brought us here. We'll craft resolutions not as burdensome checklists, but as seeds of intention, sown with the fertile soil of hope and nurtured by the unwavering sun of optimism. For New Year's is not just a calendar marker, a confetti-strewn night of revelry. It is a portal, a shimmering gateway to the year ahead, pulsating with the potential for transformation. It is a time to strengthen the bonds that bind us, to mend fractured relationships with the balm of forgiveness, and to cultivate an overflowing heart of gratitude for the blessings, big and small, that have graced our lives. Through these chapters, we'll explore the kaleidoscope of ways cultures commemorate this momentous occasion. We'll join the solemn watchnight services, witness the dazzling fireworks displays, and savor the unique culinary concoctions that paint the world with their festive flavors. We'll delve into the rich tapestry of artistic expressions, where music, literature, and dance give voice to the unspoken yearnings of the human spirit. Yet, beyond the joyous celebrations, we'll also acknowledge the challenges that accompany a new beginning. We'll address the environmental whispers of our festivities, ensuring that our revelry respects the delicate balance of our planet. We'll discuss safety concerns, urging responsible enjoyment that allows us to celebrate without harm. We'll embrace the potential pitfalls of technology, ensuring it connects us without isolating us from the true magic of human connection. This journey is not merely about traversing the globe or exploring the annals of history. It is about venturing inwards, excavating the depths of our own aspirations and fears. It is about igniting the flame of hope within, fueling our dreams with the conviction that change, growth, and a brighter future are not only possible, but within our grasp. So, dear reader, turn the page. Step into the vibrant streets of a new year, and let us dance under the starlight of possibility. Together, let us embark on this journey of hope, a journey where New Year's is not just a day, but a portal to a year, and a life, brimming with the promise of something new, something better, something uniquely yours. This is the invitation. This is the journey. This is New Year's. Are you ready to begin?

Journey to the Light

"An autobiographical memoir of artist, feminist, and environmental activist Aviva Rahmani includes her personal life and eco-art projects Ghost Nets, restoring a town dump in coastal Maine to wetlands, and The Blued Trees Symphony, an artistic and legal opposition to natural gas pipelines. Rahmani also presents her Trigger Point Theory, a thesis to predict and confront outcomes to ecological challenges."--

Know About New Year

Widowed Sam Price inherited the journals of his great-grandfather, and his great-grandfather's love of art. On a visit to a Parisian auction house, Sam sees a painting his great-grandfather once owned and questions its authenticity. This leads to the auction house offering him a job valuing artworks and establishing their provenance. When "the Item" is stolen, Sam helps to find it, but is it actually a forgery? While Sam researches its provenance, the story jumps from present to past to follow the lives it has touched. In the course of his research Sam comes into contact with four different women. Will one these become his new love? And what secrets do his great-grandfather's journals contain which may help to find the missing artworks and solve the crimes?

Divining Chaos

The journey of recovery and maintaining sobriety brings intense emotional ups and downs. In the darkest moments when all seems lost, inspiration can provide a lifeline of hope. The poems and songs contained in this collection offer connection, understanding, encouragement and comfort to anyone seeking healing from addiction or committed to staying the course of sobriety. Having the title of each poem and song clearly listed under the corresponding step makes it easy to navigate. This clear organization should serve readers well in accessing the inspirational content on their 12 step journey. Spanning the milestones of the 12 Step process, these lyrical reflections capture the pivotal turning points along the road to redemption. Raw, honest words give voice to admitting powerlessness in Step 1, grasping for faith in Step 2, letting go in Step 3 and taking personal inventory in Step 4. Further poems unpack finding courage to confess faults to another in Step 5, declaring readiness to release character defects in Step 6 and appealing for their removal in Step 7. Additional works underscore the ongoing work of making amends in Steps 8 and 9, promptly admitting when one is wrong in Step 10, consciously seeking connection through prayer and meditation in Step 11, and carrying the message of hope to others in Step 12. Song lyrics set to music explore the 12 Step journey from darkness to liberation. Whether you are just embarking on a recovery program or years into maintaining sobriety, these inspirational words shine light on shared human experiences. May the creativity, understanding and Triumph of the human spirit over addiction voiced here grant you solidarity and fortitude. When doubtful of your ability to persist, let these soaring lyrics lift your eyes to the horizon of healing. For you are never alone when walking the courageous road of recovery.

The Struggles After the Struggle

In recent years the bioarchaeology of Southeast Asia and the Pacific islands has seen enormous progress. This new and exciting research is synthesised, contextualised and expanded upon in The Routledge Handbook of Bioarchaeology in Southeast Asia and the Pacific Islands. The volume is divided into two broad sections, one dealing with mainland and island Southeast Asia, and a second section dealing with the Pacific islands. A multi-scalar approach is employed to the bio-social dimensions of Southeast Asia and the Pacific islands with contributions alternating between region and/or site specific scales of operation to the individual or personal scale. The more personal level of osteobiographies enriches the understanding of the lived experience in past communities. Including a number of contributions from sub-disciplinary approaches tangential to bioarchaeology the book provides a broad theoretical and methodological approach. Providing new information on the globally relevant topics of farming, population mobility, subsistence and health, no other volume provides such a range of coverage on these important themes.

2023 Honorable Mention, Isis Duarte Book Prize, Haiti/ Dominican Republic section (LASA) 2023 Winner, Gordon K. and Sybil Lewis Book Award, Caribbean Studies Association An innovative study of the artistic representations of undocumented migration within the Hispanophone Caribbean Debates over the undocumented migration of Latin Americans invariably focus on the southern US border, but most migrants never cross that arbitrary line. Instead, many travel, via water, among the Caribbean islands. The first study to examine literary and artistic representations of undocumented migration within the Hispanophone Caribbean, Crossing Waters relates a journey that remains silenced and largely unknown. Analyzing works by novelists, short-story writers, poets, and visual artists replete with references to drowning and echoes of the Middle Passage, Marisel Moreno shines a spotlight on the plight that these migrants face. In some cases, Puerto Rico takes on a new role as a stepping-stone to the continental United States and the society migrants will join there. Meanwhile the land border between Haiti and the Dominican Republic, the only terrestrial border in the Hispanophone Caribbean, emerges as a complex space within this cartography of borders. And while the Border Patrol occupies US headlines, the Coast Guard occupies the nightmares of refugees. An untold story filled with beauty, possibility, and sorrow, Crossing Waters encourages us to rethink the geography and experience of undocumented migration and the role that the Caribbean archipelago plays as a border zone.

Between 1923 and 1934, Britain and Italy waged war by proxy in the Middle East. Behind the appearance of European collaboration, relations between London and Rome in the Red Sea were notably tense. Although realistically Mussolini could not establish or maintain colonies in the Arabian Peninsula in the face of British opposition, his regime undertook a number of initiatives in the region to enhance Italo-Arab relations and to pave the way for future expansion once the balance of power in Europe had shifted in Italy's favour. This book examines four key aspects of relations between Britain and Italy in the Middle East in the interwar period: the confrontation between London and Rome for political influence among Arab leaders and nationalists; the competition for commercial and trade advantages in the region; the Anglo-Italian propaganda war to win the hearts and minds of the Arab populations; and the secret world of British and Italian espionage and intelligence. An in depth analysis of these four key areas demonstrates how Anglo-Italian relations broke down over the interwar period and enhances our knowledge and understanding of the factors leading up to the widening of the Second World War in the Mediterranean. This book is essential reading for scholars concerned with Anglo-Italian relations, the activities of the Powers in the Middle East and the tensions between the colonial powers.

'Nigeria's Resource Wars' reflects on the diversity of conflicts over access to, and allocation of, resources in Nigeria. From the devastating effects of crude oil exploration in the Niger Delta to desertification caused by climate change, and illegal gold mining in Zamfara, to mention a few, Nigeria faces new dimensions of resource-related struggles. The ravaging effects of these resource conflicts between crop farmers and Fulani herders in Nigeria's Middlebelt and states across Southern Nigeria call for urgent scholarly interventions; with the Fulani cattle breeders' onslaught altering the histories of many Nigerian families through deaths, loss of homes and investments, and permanent physical incapacity. Currently, there is an almost total breakdown of interethnic relations, with political commentators acknowledging that Nigeria has never been so divided as it presently is in its history. The struggles have now degenerated into kidnaps, armed robbery, and incessant targeted and random killings across the country; compounding the already complex problem of insecurity in Nigeria. The chapters in this volume engage with these issues, presenting the different arguments on resource conflicts in Nigeria. They draw insights from similar conflicts in Nigeria's colonial/post-independence past and events from around the world to proffer possible solutions to resource-related confrontations in Africa. By offering a collection of different intellectual perspectives on resource conflicts in Nigeria, this volume will be an important reference material for understanding the diversity of thought patterns that underpin the struggle and policy approaches towards resolving conflict situations in Africa. This volume will be of considerable interest to scholars of Africa, researchers in the humanities, social sciences, and conflict studies, and policymakers interested in understanding the resource crisis in Africa.

Have you ever been mentally lost? I don't mean crazy or insane, but has your life ever been temporarily out of control? You follow the orders of someone or something else. Nothing is normal during this temporary stage of your life. Have you ever experienced déjà vu? Saying to yourself, "I've been here and done this before"? Have you ever examined yourself mentally, physically, emotionally and/or spiritually and made a change based on your findings? Were you successful or not? The issues of incarceration entail all the above, especially for incarcerated women. Most incarcerated men are great actors; you would never know how they are handling incarceration, even if you inquire. Incarcerated women are not good actors. Of course, there is low self-esteem, but loss of freedom and control of their lives and temporary loss of family and friends have a different effect on incarcerated women than incarcerated men. Most are pretrial and plagued by guilt and sorrow. The women of C-Dorm struggle for a chance to find a new way of life.

It tells the story of my upbringing and future life. I hope that any young person in similar situation reads the book and realises that no matter how difficult life seems to be, there is no need to turn to drugs or crime to make a living. Just take a deep breath, have faith in yourself, and jump into life. Choose your friends wisely and don't be afraid to take a chance. Keep in mind that good friends, trusted friends, are your best assets and that not everyone is out to rob you or cheat you. Life is for living. Go and live it and enjoy.

Love Builds The Bridge

Admiral Andrew Cunningham, best remembered for his courageous leadership in the Mediterranean in the Second World War, is often rated as our finest naval commander after Nelson, and indeed a bust of the Admiral was unveiled in Trafalgar Square close by his predecessor in 1967 by the Duke of Edinburgh. It was during the dark days of 1940–41, after the surrender of France and Italy's entry into the War and when Britain was fighting single-handed, that Cunningham held the Eastern Mediterranean with a fleet greatly inferior to the Italian; his lack of ships and aircraft was more than made up for by his bold and vigorous command. Taranto, Matapan, Crete, North Africa – these are the critical battles and regions with which he is so closely associated. A Sailor's Odyssey is the stirring autobiography of this great fighting seaman from his boyhood in Dublin and his early career in the Navy and his service in the First World War, through his commands in the inter-war years, to the great sea battles in the Mediterranean, and then his elevation to First Sea Lord in 1943 and his subsequent responsibility for the operational policy of the Royal Navy during the later stages of the War. He attended the conferences at Casablanca, Teheran, Quebec and Yalta, and gives revealing glimpses of Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin. His was, truly, a remarkable career. This is a beautifully written and absorbing naval memoir, and it made a significant contribution to the history of the Royal Navy in the Second World War when it was first published in 1951; this new paperback edition, with an introduction by his great nephew Admiral Jock Slater, will fascinate and delight a new generation of readers and bring into focus again a great British fighting admiral.

Broken Wings, Mending Damaged Souls

Urban Fantasy Romance With a Heaping Side of Hexes, Spells, and Magick! Jenna's a special witch, sort of, when her magic works, which it often doesn't. One of three remaining demon assassins, she and her sister witches, Roz and Colleen, are Earth's only hedge against being overrun by Hell's minions. On the heels of Roz's and Colleen's weddings, Jenna is headed for the U.K. when a demon confronts her. Any other witch could teleport out of the plane, but not her. Frustration about her limited power eats at her. It would be pathetic to get killed for lack of skills a teenager could master. Tristan is a Sidhe warrior, but his primary gift is attunement to others' emotions. He fell hard for Jenna, but hasn't had an opportunity to act on their attraction beyond a few kisses because she returned to Alaska, and he's been in the field fighting demons. As seer for the Sidhe, Kiernan is haunted by visions, particularly an apocalyptic sending that seems to be coming true. A confirmed bachelor, he doesn't understand his attraction to Jenna, but it's so strong he can't fight it. After a while, he doesn't even try, despite recognizing Tristan's claim to her. Startling truths surface about Jenna's magic, and then there's the problem that she's falling in love with two very different men. At first she believes she has to pick one of them, but her spirit refuses to walk away from either. It's impossible to choose between a seer with dreams in his eyes and a beautiful man who intuitively knows her every need. Standing on the verge of Earth's destruction, will she defy convention and follow the song in her heart? PRAISE FOR THE DEMON ASSASSIN SERIES: "This was a refreshing change of pace for me; I haven't read many paranormal books about witches, but I really enjoyed this one! The paranormal "creatures" involved in this story are witches, Sidhe fey, demons, changelings (new to me, but I adored Bubba!) and Unseelie fey. The characters were great, particularly the three main witches, Colleen, Jenna and Roz." Goodreads review "Colleen is a witch but she's so much more than that as she is also one of three surviving demon hunting witches. Cursed by the Fae to hunt and trap demons and save the human world." Goodreads review "This series was amazing. It is a talent and a skill very few authors have and Ann continues to use hers for good and the benefit of readers everywhere." This is a collection of three books of the best-selling Broken but... Mending contemporary romance series. The books are: Skin Exploration, healing, and forgiveness. A journey of love. Kane is still reeling with anger of betrayal at the deepest level. Hoping to find his way back to forgiveness, therapy is his only option. But he discovers so much more... Tania is struggling with her fear of intimacy after past demons still haunt her. Uncertain of how to let anyone get close to her again, she immerses herself into her photography. Finding comfort in her camera, she discovers the human body, Kane's body. Looking through the lens of a camera, Tania finds her strength and the beauty of love--with him. But can two broken souls find the courage to confront their pasts for a future together? Book2 Scars Some scars are visible. Some scars are hidden. But the worst scars are buried within... Existing in their own private worlds, Robin and Sean are not really living. With a need to move forward, Robin attends a workshop geared to help her do just that. At his sister's request, Sean struggles to heal the darkness in his soul by attending a workshop to help him find balance with his life and let go of a painful history. But at what cost? As they confront their pain, Robin and Sean evolve, healing the scars of their past. Can a story of sorrow, loss, and betrayal turn to success, joy, and love? Book 3 Scales (of Justice) It's a question of justice. A debate between right and wrong. But what happens when the lines blur, can justice prevail? Paris believes she's in the clear--thwarted justice. Weaver is powerless, waiting for justice. Paris escaped a situation that some would consider a crime. She worries constantly that the day of reckoning is around every corner. Weaver seeks justice like hunter seeking prey. His biggest fear is that the day of reckoning he deserves will never come. Forced to deal with very deep and personal problems, Paris and Weaver, complete strangers, agree to a therapy assignment that seems radical and frightening. As they navigate the boundaries between right and wrong, against shattered hearts, can Paris and Weaver balance the scales of justice to find what they're looking for?
