Geroscience within Inspire: Distinguishing Geroscience from Aging Biology

The Increase in Lifespan is not Matched by Increases in Healthspan

Our Main Focus is on Death, Not Health

The world is aging, and this is perceived as a BIG problem!

IT IS, if we continue addressing health the same way we succeeded in the 20th century

Inspire focuses on the drivers that allow maintenance of health

What is Aging Biology?

A Description of Disease Susceptibility

A Description of Responses to the Environment

1. There Are Genes That Control Longevity

2. There Are Interventions to Control Longevity Caloric Restriction

Aging is Malleable

What Have We Learned About Aging Biology? 3. We Understand it at Molecular / Cellular Level

Currently, Biomedicine Focuses on Death, not Health Death

From the moment we are born, we all begin ageing.

This is the start of a life course which is complex and varied.

Each of us lives through different life events, we make choices we face the consequences of policies and systems and forms of discrimination which influence our lives.

As we grow older, the impact on us of these different experiences accumulates

This line shows your wellbeing today and across your lifecourse

Jose was recently diagnosed with diabetes.

We all experience ageing in a different way

We benefit from growing experience and knowledge and form meaningful family and social relationships.

But we also carry the cumulative impact of challenging life experiences

How policies and programmes are implemented affects our lives across the life course and influences our wellbeing in old age.

but also look back and respond to older people's diverse past experiences
