Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts (1) We have not used OCR(Optical Character Recognition), as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos. (2) In books where there are images such as portraits, maps, sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images, so they represent accurately the original artefact. Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts, we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy.

Excerpt from Collections of the Connecticut Historical Society, Vol. 20 The Huntingtons of Norwich are one of the noted families of Connecticut and the period of the Revolution is recognized as one of the most important in the history of this country. The correspondence here published, consisting as it does of letters written in large part by and to two Huntington brothers during the Revolutionary War, when one of them was in active service in field and camp and the other, perhaps no less active, in the necessary occupations of home pursuits and business affairs, relating in part to the war, makes a volume of wide and lasting interest and value. Excerpt from Ohio Archeological and Historical Publications, Vol. 8 The contents of this volume speak for themselves. The demand for the publications of the Society increases greatly each year. They are now sent to all the leading libraries Of the country as well as the prominent historical societies. These volumes, however, it should be distinctly understood, though published under the auspices Of the State are not for gratuitous and miscellaneous distribution, as are many of the state reports. The Seventy - fourth General Assembly (January - April, 1900) made a special appropriation for the purpose of supplying the members with ten complete sets of the eight volumes of the Society. Two previous legislatures made similar provision. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
