CALICO Journal

Written by Dr. Stacy Dean, this book satisfies the overwhelming demands of today's classroom teacher. Dr. Dean has developed a lesson plan book that guides teachers to plan instruction more effectively in order to meet the needs of diverse learners. Based on Universal Design for Learning (UDL), this valuable framework will assist teachers in creating accessible classrooms. Additionally, it addresses standards-based education and scientifically based instruction in an era of accountability, including the use of assistive technology. With a no-fail format for planning instruction and a plethora of tips and resources, teachers of diverse populations (general, special education, mixed ability, at-risk, ELL) finally have one document that incorporates all of the necessary guidelines for effective planning and teaching.

The activities in this book have two intentions: to teach concepts related to earth and space science and to provide students the opportunity to apply necessary skills needed for mastery of science and technology curriculum objectives. Throughout the experiments, the scientific method is used. In each section you will find teacher notes designed to provide guidance with the learning intention, the success criteria, materials needed, a lesson outline, as well as provide insight on what results to expect when the experiments are conducted. Suggestions for differentiation are also included so that all students can be successful in the learning environment. Topics covered include: Conservation of Energy, Renewable and Non-Renewable Resources and Weather. 96 Pages

Resources in Education

The newly revised and updated fourth edition of Methods and Materials for Teaching the Gifted is an excellent introduction to gifted education and real-world learning. The chapters of this comprehensive textbook are written by respected leaders in the field of gifted education. The authors review the unique needs of gifted learners and give current information on instructional planning and evaluation, strategies for best practices, and ongoing enhancement and support of gifted programs. Chapters include topics such as differentiated curricular design, extending learning through research, writing challenging instructional units, and developing leadership skills and innovative thinkers. Instructional practices such as problem-based learning, technology literacy, independent study, simulation and gaming, and more are addressed. A special focus is given to using the Gifted Education Programming Standards and Common Core State Standards. The fourth edition provides updated information on funding sources and public relations strategies for gifted education programs. It also includes updated lists of books, teaching materials, websites, and other resources for teachers of the gifted.

Successful strategies for reading in the content areas

Our combined resource teaches the skills of map reading starting with the basics to the more advanced. Combining the curriculum-based lessons for grades prekindergarten to eight, our resource highlights the elements of map reading from symbols and the compass rose to lines of latitude, longitude and time zones. Students will learn the basics of map reading, starting with a general overview of the continents and countries, then becoming more specific with topographic and choropleth maps. Comprised of reading passages, map activities, crossword, word search, comprehension quiz, and test prep, our resource incorporates curriculum-based lessons with Google Earth™ so students can further understand the complexities of map reading with the help of visual and interactive technology. All of our content is aligned to your State Standards and are written to Bloom's Taxonomy.

Lesson Plan Book for the Diverse Classroom

Abstract: A curriculum guide composed of 13 lessons for pregnant teenagers is presented. The guide is designed to introduce nutrition through formatted activities which allow the teacher flexibility to address specific needs. The program can be integrated into other disciplines (e.g., language, spelling, home economics). The introductory lesson helps teachers assess the current level of nutrition knowledge the students have (included are a review of basic nutrition concepts, pre-test for lessons 1-13, and a student learning preference sheet). Lessons 1-9 explore the pregnant teenager's nutrition requirements. Lessons 10-13 discusses nutritional requirements during lactation and infant feeding. Each lesson contains: a focus statement, behavioral objectives, teacher notes, references, suggested activities, and supplementary materials. The appendix contains: an annotated bibliography, audio-visual aids, reprinted articles of special interest; and a food composition table. (kbc).
