Which of the following is an example of vector transmission? a. Tuberculosis b. Salmonella infection c. Bubonic plague d. HIV

C: The transmission of bubonic plague by fleas from rodents is an example of vector transmission: tuberculosis is spread via airborne transmission.

B: A specific class of fire extinguisher is used for each class of fire except for class D fires: these types of fires involve combustible or reactive metals such as sodium, potassium, magnesium, or lithium and should be handled by trained firefighting personnel.

B: Because the median cubital vein is closer to the surface and located in an area least prone to nerve damage, it is the preferred site for venipuncture.

C: Body position, environmental conditions such as temperature and humidity, and stress can affect blood specimen composition; fasting is useful in eliminating dietary influences on blood testing.

B: The reservoir host is a person, animal, plant, or other organism or substance that acts as the source of transmission of a pathogen; the susceptible host is the person capable of being infected with a pathogen.
