A2 Geography for AQA Specification A

Help students appreciate texts and write about them with conviction. Responding to a comprehension question is a surprisingly complex task. It draws on multiple skills: students must be able to read and analyze a text passage; consider what aspect of the text the question addresses; and then quickly and concisely write about their ideas, citing evidence to support them. Hence the prominence of constructed-response questions in standardized testing. In this refreshingly clear and upbeat guide, literacy consultant Nancy Boyles gives a step-by-step demonstration of how to help students achieve success with this task—and in the process of unpacking the steps involved, demonstrates how the instruction can inspire teachers' creativity as well as deepen students' literacy skills. Filled with ready-to-use scaffolds for every stage of instruction—sets of sample questions, anchor charts, cue cards, answer frames—this is a one-stop resource for teaching students how to organize their thoughts about what they've read, and then set them down in writing.

Microbiology an Introduction Thirteenth Edition

Physical requirements Temperature

Physical Requirements (1 of 2) • Temperature

Osmotic Pressure • Hypertonic environments (higher in solutes than inside the cell) cause plasmolysis due to high osmotic pressure • Extreme or obligate halophiles require high osmotic pressure (high salt) • Facultative halophiles tolerate high osmotic pressure

Structural backbone of organic molecules - Chemoheterotrophs use organic molecules as energy

Nitrogen Component of proteins, DNA, and ATP - Most bacteria decompose protein material for the nitrogen - A few bacteria use N₂ in nitrogen fixation

Chemical Requirements • Phosphorus - Used in DNA, RNA, and ATP

Oxygen (1 of 2) • Different microbes have different tolerances to oxygen • There was no free oxygen in the early Earth atmosphere. Why?

Organic Growth Factors • Organic compounds obtained from the environment • Vitamins, amino acids, purines, and pyrimidines

Biofilms (2 of 3) • Microbial communities • Form slime or hydrogels that adhere to surfaces - Bacteria communicate cell-to-cell via quorum sensing - Bacteria secrete an inducer (signaling chemical) to attract other bacterial cells

Culture Media (4 of 4) • Chemically defined media: exact chemical composition is known • Complex media: extracts and digests of yeasts, meat, or plants, chemical composition varies batch to batch - Nutrient broth - Nutrient agar

Obtaining Pure Cultures 2 of 2 A pure culture contains only one species or strain • A colony is a population of cells arising from a single cell or spore or from a group of attached cells • A colony is often called a colony-forming unit (CFU) • The streak plate method is used to isolate pure cultures

Bacterial Division • Increase in number of cells, not cell size • Binary fission
