International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs)

Global Financial Accounting and Reporting 3e provides a complete companion to financial accounting that takes management students with no previous knowledge of accounting from the mechanics of how financial records are structured through to being able to understand and analyze published consolidated financial statements. The aim is to place financial reporting in its business context and to make it clear to aspiring managers how accounting is an integral part of understanding an enterprise. To this end this book considers how the conceptual foundations of accounting translate into the financial statements of businesses. The book is global in its approach. It uses International Financial Reporting Standards as its basis and so reflects the rules followed by nearly all European listed companies and by an ever-increasing number of firms worldwide. Global Financial Accounting and Reporting is primarily aimed at future users of accounting information such as managers and analysts. It is therefore ideal for use at MBA level. It can also be used on financial accounting modules for business students at the undergraduate level.

Company Valuation Under IFRS

Global Financial Accounting and Reporting is a European-focused introductory financial accounting textbook for students encountering the subject for the first time at MBA and Masters level. Structured around European IFRS, the second edition of this text has been fully updated to cover recent changes to reporting standards and provides a concise and accessible guide to international financial reporting, heavily-supported by real-world examples from multinational company accounts.

Global Financial Accounting and Reporting

This research monograph examines whether International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) are interpreted and applied in a consistent manner within and across countries, and questions the implicit assumption that accounting convergence will automatically lead to comparability in financial reporting.

Financial Accounting with International Financial Reporting Standards

With the growing integration of the international economy, the need for established systems of classification in financial reporting becomes ever more important. Chris Nobes asks whether classification is possible, or even useful, and offers a critical analysis of the current attempts to discern an order in the variety of accounting practices. Revised and updated to reflect the post-IFRS era, this book will be of interest to academics, postgraduates and undergraduates in international accounting, accounting theory and to international accounting professionals.

Global Financial Accounting and Reporting

IFRS Simplified is a fast and easy-to-understand overview of the new International Financial Reporting Standards.

International Financial Reporting Standard 1

Discusses financial accounting that is non-country specific. Utilises International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as a framework to explain key concepts and practice. Intended for those with little or no previous knowledge of financial accounting.

Financial statement analysis allows for realistic valuations of investment, lending, or merger and acquisition opportunities Essential reading for financial analysts, investment analysts, portfolio managers, asset allocators, graduate students, and others interested in this important field of finance Includes key coverage of income tax accounting and reporting, the difficulty of measuring the value of employee compensation, and the impact of foreign exchange rates on the financial statements of multinational corporations Financial statement analysis gives investment professionals important insights into the true financial condition of a company, and International Financial Statement Analysis, Second Edition puts the full knowledge of the CFA at your fingertips.

Financial Accounting

Contributions to International Accounting aims to address this vital gap, focusing on providing relevant and timely research on International Financial Reporting Standards implementation for local and international policymakers.

International Financial Reporting

An approach that blends theory and practice with real-world data analysis. International Financial Management seamlessly blends theory with the analysis of data, examples, and practical case situations. Overall, Bekaert/Hodrick equips future business leaders with the analytical tools they need to understand the issues, make sound international financial decisions, and manage the risks that businesses may face in today's competitive global environment. All data in this edition has been updated to reflect the most recent information, including coverage on the latest research, global financial crisis, and emerging markets.

International Financial Reporting & Analysis

The financial analysis perspective that this text represents is an analytical approach to International Accounting. Instead of focusing on individual FASB's that constantly change, this text teaches students the concepts behind the standards. Along with this unique approach, the main strengths of this text are its plentiful end-of-chapter material and its use of focus countries to demonstrate accounting systems. This second edition will continue to build on those strengths, as well as update focus countries.

Intermediate Financial Reporting

Designed to meet the demand for coverage of the International Financial Reporting Standards in professional accounting courses, this book takes full account of all extant IFRSs and is appropriate for those participating in MAcc programmes throughout the country as well as those preparing for all examinations of the professional accounting bodies.
