How teachers can deal with the most challenging children

What sorts of things drive really challenging behaviour?

Should you treat these children differently to the rest of your students?

How might you deal with a student who is being extremely defiant/ abusive / disruptive?

How do you approach calming the rest of the class in the aftermath?

How and when should you seek support from other staff?

How can you make students more aware of their own behaviour and responsible for self regulation?

How best to deal with the negative emotions teachers experience when faced with challenging behaviour?

Manual Handling - What is the Power Zone? - Manual Handling - What is the Power Zone? by iHasco 16,442 views 5 years ago 55 seconds - Because working with a neutral posture is a key part of preventing injury, we want to talk about The Power Zone. The Power Zone ...

The Power Zone is the space between your mid-thigh and mid-chest, where you can lift the MOST with the LEAST amount of exertion.

As you can see, the closer a load is to your body, the more weight you can safely lift.

The further away the load is, the more pressure it puts on your lower back, so the amount you can safely lift DECREASES.
