The American Music Teacher

With warmth and humor, tuba virtuoso Harvey Phillips tells the story of his amazing life and career from his Missouri childhood through his days as a performer with the King Brothers and the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circuses, his training at the Juilliard School, a stint with the US Army Field Band, and his freelance days with the New York City Opera and Ballet. A founder of the New York Brass Quintet, Phillips served as vice president of the New England Conservatory of Music and became Distinguished Professor of Music at Indiana University. The creator of an industry of TubaChristmases, Octubafests, and TubaSantas, he crusaded for recognition of the tuba as a serious musical instrument, commissioning more than 200 works. Enhanced by an extensive gallery of photographs, Mr. Tuba conveys Phillips's playful zest for life while documenting his important musical legacy.

This book contains all of Concone's famous Solfeggi: 30 Daily Exercises - Basic Legato Studies The first section-30 Daily Exercises-contains short studies to help improve legato sound. Exercise number 9 was a favorite of Mr. Arnold Jacobs, the famed former tubist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. When practiced in all keys and in both the upper and lower registers this exercise will improve control, intonation and tone color. 50 Lessons - The musical Vocalises of Concone Beginning with the section 50 Lessons, and continuing with 25 Lessons, 15 Vocalises and finally with the section 40 Lessons, Concone paints a compelling musical landscape. Learn to phrase properly, add dynamic contrast (dynamics are not printed in this book) and make each of the vocalises your own unique musical presentation. 25 Lessons - More complex melodies The 25 Lessons present slightly more complex and colorful musical ideas. Rhythms are more challenging, key signatures more varied and range is expanded. Still, the performer will have to interpret the dynamic contour of the music.

Music Journal

This Companion covers many diverse aspects of brass instruments and in such detail. It provides an overview of the history of brass instruments, and their technical and musical development. Although the greatest part of the volume is devoted to the western art music tradition, with chapters covering topics from the medieval to the contemporary periods, there are important contributions on the ancient world, non-western music, vernacular and popular traditions and the rise of jazz. Despite the breadth of its narrative, the book is rich in detail, with an extensive glossary and bibliography. The editors are two of the most respected names in the world of brass performance and scholarship, and the list of contributors includes the names of many of the world's most prestigious scholars and performers on brass instruments.

Second book of practical studies for tuba

Gershwin's Prelude II for piano is the second in a set of three preludes composed in 1936. In Donald Grantham's uniquely original composition, Fantasy Variations, both of the big tunes in the piece are fully exploited, but they do not appear in recognizable form until near the end. The work begins with much more obscure fragments drawn from the introduction, accompanimental figures, transitions, cadences and so forth. These eventually give way to more familiar motives derived from the themes themselves.

All of these elements are gradually assembled over the last half of the piece until the themes finally appear in more or less their original form.
