Pre-Christian Ireland

Tells the story of human settlement in Ireland from its beginnings 10,000 years ago to St Patrick's Christianizing mission in the 5th century AD. This is interwoven with accounts of major excavations at sites such as Carrowmore, Rathgall and Navan Fort.

Pre-Christian Ireland

Presents an alphabetical listing of information on the origins, prehistory, history, culture, languages, relationships to other cultures and more regarding European peoples.

Encyclopedia of European Peoples

This engaging book traces the history, archaeology, and legends of ancient Ireland from 9000 B.C., when nomadic hunter-gatherers appeared in Ireland at the end of the last Ice Age to 1167 A.D., when a Norman invasion brought the country under control of the English crown for the first time. So much of what people today accept as ancient Irish history—Celtic invaders from Euproe turning Ireland into a Celtic nation; St. Patrick driving the snakes from Ireland and converting its people to Christianity—is myth and legend with little basis in reality. The truth is more interesting. The Irish, as the authors show, are not even Celtic in an archaeological sense. And there were plenty of bishops in Ireland before a British missionary called Patrick arrived. But In Search of Ancient Ireland is not simply the story of events from long ago. Across Ireland today are festivals, places, and folk customs that provide a tangible link to events thousands of years past. The authors visit and describe many of these places and festivals, talking to a wide variety of historians, scholars, poets, and storytellers in the very settings where history happened. Thus the book is also a journey on the ground to uncover ten thousand years of Irish identity. In Search of Ancient Ireland is the official companion to the three-part PBS documentary series. With 14 black-and-white photos, 6 b&w illustrations, and 1 map.

In Search of Ancient Ireland

This book, first published in 2006, surveys the archaeology of the Celtic-speaking areas of Britain and Ireland, AD 400 to 1200.

In this book James Nafziger covers emerging topics of cultural heritage law, particularly at the international level, by focusing primarily on the numerous work products of the International Law Association's Committee on Cultural Heritage Law. Cultural heritage law has become a landmark in the field of international law. Its construction is a good example of transnationalism at work, combining legislation, judicial decisions, and other national initiatives, diplomacy, intergovernmental agreements, especially within the framework of UNESCO, and non-governmental activities and instruments. This volume focuses on the seminal contributions to this process of the Committee on Cultural Heritage Law of the International Law Association, while situating these projects against the broader background of the development of the modern international regime for protecting cultural heritage.

The Lost History of Ireland

In de jaren '20 en '30 van de vorige eeuw waren op de Veluwe, naast beroepsarcheologen uit Leiden en Groningen, ook meerdere amateurarcheologen actief, waaronder een aantal beroepsmilitairen. Twee daarvan, kapitein H.J. Bellen uit Ede en sergeant H. Westendorp uit Nieuw-Milligen, krijgen hier meer aandacht. Dat is deels vanwege hun vondsten, deels vanwege de documentatie bij die vondsten. Bellen maakte aantekeningen in zakboekjes, Westendorp corrigeerde fouten in de beschrijving van zijn collectie in de dissertatie van Bursch. Bellen en Westendorp groeven zes grafvondsten met koperen tongdolkjes op. Die zijn al eerder beschreven, maar worden hier opnieuw behandeld met gebruikmaking van alle beschikbare documentatie, en in twee gevallen met gegevens van aanvullend bodemonderzoek. Daarnaast worden twee toevalsvondsten uit zand/grintgroeves behandeld, de een met een gouden haarsieraad, de ander met een versierde aardewerken schaal op vier zuilvormige voetjes. Aangetoond wordt dat dergelijke oude amateuropgravingen en toevalsvondsten een nieuwe bestudering waard zijn. In het tweede deel van dit boek worden de acht vondsten in een bredere context geplaatst. Mede op basis van 14C-dateringen en een paar recentere vondsten van gouden haarsieraden in Beers-Gassel (N. Br.) en Eelde (Dr.) wordt aangetoond dat voorwerpen als tongdolken van koper, gouden / zilveren Lockenringe en voetjesschalen, die als kenmerkend voor de Klokkebekercultuur te boek staan, ontleend zijn aan de saalische Schnurkeramik, deels rechtstreeks, deels via de Enkelgrafcultuur.

British Archaeological Abstracts

This book will help you find out about the different types of evidence which historians study when doing their historical research. It also provides examples of this evidence, on which you will be able to carry out your own research. Some sources are very rare and are the only remaining evidence of a time in the past; other periods, especially the recent past, have lots of evidence which must be tested for bias and accuracy. This book will give you background information and advice about evidence in all its forms. This will enable you to develop the skills of a young historian.

Pre-Christian Ireland

This history of the Celts draws on archaeological, historical, literary and linguistic evidence. It covers the continental Celts in prehistory and antiquity, follows the Celts from the departure of the Romans to the Middle Ages and covers Celtic assimilation within the national cultures of Britain.

Journal of the Cork Historical and Archaeological Society

This new edition of Historical Dictionary of Ireland is an excellent resource for discovering the history of Ireland. This is done through a chronology, an introductory essay, and an extensive bibliography. The cross-referenced dictionary section has over 600 entries on significant persons, places and events, political parties and institutions (including the Catholic church) with period forays into literature, music and the arts. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Ireland.

The British Chronicles

The term 'Dark Ages' was coined to describe a period which was seen as a period of anarchy and violence, following the collapse of civilisation. Recent discoveries by archaeologists and historians have, however, radically altered this traditional view of the Dark Ages, and the period is now seen as one of innovation and dynamic social evolution. This book reconsiders a number of traditionally accepted views. It argues, for example, that the debt of the Dark Age Celts to Rome was enormous, even in areas such as Ireland that were never occupied by Roman invaders. It also discusses the traditional chronology suggesting that the date of 'AD 400' usually taken as the start of the 'early Christian period in Britain and Ireland now has comparatively little meaning. Once this conventional framework is removed, it is possible to show how the Celtic world of the Dark Ages took shape under Roman influence in the centuries between about 200 to 800, and looked to Rome even for the immediate inspiration for its art. Such questions as the extent of British (that is, Celtic) survival in pagan Saxon England, and the Celtic and Roman contribution to early England are considered.

Early Christian Ireland

Attempts to explain why there was such a flowering of culture in the period up to AD 800 in Ireland. Mytum takes a theoretical position on his subject-matter, and applies it in detail using archaeological and also extensive historical information.

Bulletin of the Institute of Archaeology

Graydon Snyder tells the story of two different Christianities - the Roman and the Celtic. He traces the ancient path of the Celts, wandering from Galatia, in what is now Turkey, to Ireland. In Galatia, their practices and beliefs did not fit with Paul's teaching and interpretation of the Jesus tradition. The Celts, for example, did not believe human nature was corrupt, but instead affirmed essential human goodness and focused on the compassionate elements of the Jesus tradition.

The Review of Archaeology

Reproduction of the original: Phases of Irish History by Eoin MacNeill

Frontiers of Cultural Heritage Law

"Different beliefs, practices and rituals behind the notion of their magical powers and virtues are revealed. The situations in which people resorted to them are also examined: selecting chieftains, establishing the truth, curing sickness, and promoting fertility. In conclusion, the role of sacred stones in the religious and spiritual life of modern Ireland is described. This is a reminder of our spiritual past as some of these stones and monuments enter their fifth millennium."--Jacket.

The Publishers Weekly

The Celtic peoples of the British Isles hold a fundamental place in our national consciousness. In this book Simon James surveys ancient and modern ideas of the Celts and challenges them in the light of revolutionary new thinking on the Iron Age peoples of Britain. Examining how ethnic and national identities are constructed, he presents an alternative history of the British Isles, proposing that the idea of insular Celtic identity is really a product of the rise of nationalism in the eighteenth century. He considers whether the 'Celticness' of the British Isles is a romantic fantasy, even a politically dangerous falsification of history which has implications in the current debate on devolution and self-government for the Celtic regions.

Celtic Britain

Archaeological evidence here is used to help build up a picture of the lives led by the people of which it is a record. The contents include a description of primitive settlements, leading up to an account of the art, trade and civilization generally of early ages prior to the Celtic invasion and up to the end of Medieval times. Two chapters take narratives from the time and analyse them against physical evidence and consider what they tell us alongside that information. Many often overlooked facts are brought to the fore and special attention is paid to the overwhelming influence of climate in shaping human destiny. Originally published in 1935, this book is as enlightening today.

The Encyclopedia of Celtic Mythology and Folklore

This important collection seeks ways forward at the moment in history when the genome-wide sequencing of ancient DNA has suddenly changed everything in the study of later European prehistory.

Making Sense of History

Ireland's First Settlers tells the story of the archaeology and history of the first continuous phase of Ireland's human settlement. It combines centuries of search and speculation about human antiquity in Ireland with a review of what is known today about the Irish Mesolithic. This is, in part, provided in the context of the author's 50 years of personal experience searching to make sense of what initially appeared to be little more than a collection of beach rolled and battered flint tools. The story is embedded in how the island of Ireland, its position, distinct landscape and ecology impacted on when and how Ireland was colonized. It also explores how these first settlers evolved their technologies and lifeways to suit the narrow range of abundant resources that were available. The volume concludes with discussions on how the landscape should be searched for the often ephemeral traces of these early settlers and how sites should be excavated. It asks what we really know about the thoughts and life of the people themselves and what happened to them as farming began to be introduced.

The Successor to the Are Dry or Monarch Instead of Being Simply Called Tannest Had the More Sounding Title of Roy Domina or King Successor the Chief Offices about the Kings in the First Ages Were all Filled by the Druids or Pagan Priests the Bri Hans or Judges Were Usually Druids as Were Also the Bards the Historians of Their Patrons Then Came the Physicians the Chiefs Who Paid the Tribute or Received Annual Gifts from the Sovereigns or Princes the Royal Stewards and the Military Leaders or Champions Who Like the Knights of the Middle Ages Held Their Lands and Their Rank at Court by the Tenure of the Sword like the Feudal Dukes of France

The Royal Stewards and the Military Leaders or Champions Who Like the Knights of the Middle Ages Held Their Lands and Their Rank at Court by the Tenure of the Sword like the Feudal Dukes of France and Barons of England these Military Nobles Often Proved Too Powerful for Their Nominal Patrons and Made Them Experience All the Uncertainty of Reciprocal Dependence the Champions Play an Important Part in All the Early Legends Wherever There Is Trouble You Are Sure To Find Them Their Most Celebrated Divisions Were the Warriors of the Red Branch That Is To Say the Militia of Ulster Affion or Militia of Lynnster Sometimes the Royal Guard of Tara at Others in Exile and Disgrace the Clan Decayed of Munster

Their Most Celebrated Divisions Were the Warriors of the Red Branch That Is To Say the Militia of Ulster Affion or Militia of Lynnster Sometimes the Royal Guard of Tara at Others in Exile and Disgrace the Clan Decayed of Munster and the Fionna of CanNot the Last Force Was Largely Recruited from the Belgic Race Who Had Been Squeezed into that Western Province by Their Malaysian Conquerors Pretty Much as Cromwell Endeavoured To Force the Malaysian Irish into It Many Hundred Years Afterwards each of these Bands Had Its Special Heroes Its Godfrey's and Orlando's Celebrated in Song

And this Led to Constant Border Wars with Munster the Remainder of the South to the Mouth of the Shannon Muenster the Present County of Claire and all West of the Shannon North To Slow Go and Part of Kevin Going with CanNot the Chief Seats of Power in those Several Divisions Were Tara for Federal Purposes Amania near Our Mug for Ulster Llenan for Lynnster Cashel for Munster and Crucian Now Rath Croghan in Roscommon for Command How the Common People Lived within these External Divisions of Power It Is Not So Easy To Describe

There Were Also Particular Gods of Poets Champions Artificers and Mariners Just as among the Romans and Greeks Sacred Groves Were Dedicated to these Gods Priests and Priestesses Devoted Their Lives to Their Service the Arms of the Champion and the Person of the King Were Charmed by Them neither Peace nor War Was Made without Their Sanction Their Own Persons and Their Pupils Were Held as Sacred the High Place at the Kings Right Hand and the Best Fruits of the Earth and the Waters Were Theirs Old Age Revered Them Women Worshipped Them Warriors Paid Court to Them Youth Trembled before Them Princes and Chieftains Regarded

Though Possessing Central Legal Rights Were an Inferior Cast while of the Artisans the Smiths and Armorer's Only Seemed To Have Been of Much Consideration the Builders of those Mysterious Round Towers of Which a Hundred Ruins Yet Remain May Also Have Been a Privileged Order but the Mill and the Loom Were Servile Occupations Left Altogether to Slaves Taken in Battle or Purchased in the Marketplaces of Britain the Task of the Herdsmen like that of the Farm Labourer Seems To Have Devolved on the Bondsman while the Kern and the Shuttle Were Left Exclusively to the Hands of the Bonds Women

You Face all Trace of the Existing Belief in One God and Three Persons whether in Private or Public Worship in Contracts or in Courts of Law and Instead of these Reestablish All over the Country in High Places and in every Place the Gloomy Groves of the Druids Making Gods of the Sun and Moon the Natural Elements and Man's Own Passions Restoring Human Sacrifices as a Sacred Duty and Practically Excluding from the Community of Their Fellows all Who Presume To Question the Divine Origin of Such a Religion the Preaching of Patrick Affected a Revolution to the Full As Complete as Such a Counter-Revolution in Favor of Paganism

He and His Companions Were Driven off the Coast of Wicklow by a Mob Who Assailed Them with Showers of Stones Running down the Coast to Antrim with Which He Was Personally Familiar He Made some Stay at Saw in Down Where He Made Few Converts and Celebrated Mass in a Barn Proceeding Northward He Found Himself Rejected with Scorn by His Old Master Milko of Schley Miche no Doubt It Appeared an Unpardonable Audacity in the Eyes of the Proud Pagan that His Former Slave Should Attempt To Teach Him How To Reform His Life

He Resolved To Proceed to Tara on that Occasion and To Confront the Druids in the Midst of All the Princes and Magnates of the Island with this View He Returned on His Former Course and Landed from His Frail Bark at the Mouth of the Boyne Taking Leave of the Boatman He Desired Them To Wait for Him a Certain Number of Days When if They Did Not Hear from Him They Might Conclude Him Dead and Provide for Their Own Safety So Saying He Set Out Accompanied by the Few Disciples He Had Made or Brought from Abroad To Traverse on Foot the Great Plain Which Stretches from the Mouth of the Boyne to Tara

So Saying He Set Out Accompanied by the Few Disciples He Had Made or Brought from Abroad To Traverse on Foot the Great Plain Which Stretches from the Mouth of the Boyne to Tara if those Sailors Were Christians as Is Most Likely We Can Conceive with What Anxiety They Must Have Awaited Tidings of an Attempt So Hazardous and So Eventful the Christian Proceeded on His Way and the First Night of His Journey Lodged with a Hospitable Chief Whose Family He Converted and Baptized Especially Marking Out a Fine Child Named Benin Called by Him Ben Ignis from His Sweet Disposition Who Was Destined To Be One of His Most Efficient Coadjutors and Finally His Successor in the Primacy of Our Ma

The Christian Proceeded on His Way and the First Night of His Journey Lodged with a Hospitable Chief Whose Family He Converted and Baptized Especially Marking Out a Fine Child Named Benin Called by Him Ben Ignis from His Sweet Disposition Who Was Destined To Be One of His Most Efficient Coadjutors and Finally His Successor in the Primacy of Our Ma It Was about the Second or Third Day When Travelling Probably by the Northern Road Poetically Called the Slope of the Chariots the Christian Adventurers Came in Sight of the Roofs of Terra Halting on a Neighboring Eminence They Surveyed the Citadel of Ancient Error like Soldiers about To Assault an Enemy's Stronghold the Aspect of the Royal Hill Must Have Been Highly Imposing

The Building towards the North Was the Banquet Hall Then Thronged with the Celebrants of the King's Birthday Measuring from North to South 360 Feet in Length by 40 Feet Wide South of this Hall Was the King's Wrath or Residence Enclosing an Area of 280 Yards in Diameter and Including Several Detached Buildings Such as the House of Cormac and the House of the Hostages South Would Still Stood the New Wrath of the Reigning King and Yet Farther South the Wrath of Queen Mab Probably Uninhabited Even Then the Intervals between the Buildings Were at some Points Planted for We Know that Magnificent Trees Shaded the Well of Fear

And Lit His Own Fire Where He Had Encamped in View of the Royal Residence a Flight of Fiery Arrows Shot into the Banqueting-Hall Would Not Have Excited More Horror and Tumult among the Company Their Assembled than Did the Sight of that Unlicensed Blaze in the Distance Orders Were Issued To Drag the Offender against the Laws and the Gods of the Island before Them and the Punishment in Store for Him Was Already Decreed in every Heart the Preacher Followed by His Trembling Disciples Ascended the Slope of the Chariots Surrounded by Menacing Minions of the Pagan Law and Regarded with Indignation by Astonished Spectators as He Came He Recited Latin Prayers to the Blessed Trinity Beseeching Their Protection and Direction in this Trying

Since the First Apostle of the Gentiles Had Confronted the Subtle Paganism of Athens on the Hill of Mars None of those Who Walked in His Steps Ever Stood Outed More Glorious Relief than Patrick Surrounded by Pagan Princes and a Pagan Priesthood on the Hill of Tara the Defense of the Fire He Had Kindled Unlicensed Soon Extended into Wider Issues Who Were the Gods against Whom He Had Offended Were They True Gods or False They Had Their Priests Could They Maintain the Divinity of Such Gods by Argument or by Miracle for His God He Though Unworthy Was Ready To Answer Yay Right Ready To Die His God Had Become a Man and Had Died for Man

The Missionaries Obtained Powerful Protectors and the King Assigned to Patrick the Pleasant Fault of Trim as a Present Residence from that Convenient Distance He Could Readily Return at any Moment To converse with the Kings Guests and the Members of His Household the Druidical Superstition Never Recovered the Blow It Received that Day at Tara the Conversion of the Arch Druid and the Princesses Walls of Itself Their Knell of Doom yet They Held Their Ground during the Remainder of this Rain 25 Years Longer Ad 458 the King Himself Never Became a Christian though He Tolerated the Missionaries and Deferred More and More every Year to the Christian Party He Sanctioned an Expedited Code of the Laws Prepared under the Direction of Patrick

They Tried Ridicule and Satire in this They Were for Sometimes Seconded by the Bards Men Warmly Attached to Their Goddess of Psalm and Their Lives of Self-Indulgence all in Vain the Day of the Idols Was Fast Verging into Everlasting Night in Aaron Patrick and His Disciples Were Advancing from Conquest to Conquest Amar and Cashel Came in the Wake of Terror and Kracken Was Soon To Follow Driven from the High Places the Obdurate Priests of Bel Took Refuge in the Depths of the Forests and in the Islands of the Sea Where in the Christian Anchorites of the Next Stage Were To
