Intro

Cut the paper in a leaf shape. (half oval)

Next, fold the leaf like this.

Fold it down really well before opening the leaf.

Unfold and open.

What do you think? Please leave your comments below!

Next, a tropical leaf.

Fold the paper in half. Cut the excess part.

Now, cut a half leaf shape.

Then, cut off the details.

Tada! Easy, right?

You can cut out holes with a cutter.

Fold it from the tip.

You can make a different leaf like this one.

This time, cut a longer leaf like a banana leaf.

Then, cut fringes on the edges.

After opening the leaf, curl the tips of the leaf.

You can play around with the shapes to make different leaves.

stapled on the plastic canvas starting off with about two cups of the shredded paper blend it up with water reach at least an inch up the side of your container added six to eight more cups of water slide my screen down one side cover up all of those little holes in the plastic transfer onto our cutting board try to bury the petals a little bit placing all of the petals lay it down on top of the paper pulp take a microfiber cloth scrape that pulp right back into your basin mix up a little bit more of my paper pulp putting the flower petals directly into the water adding those specks of tea leaves place the flowers

rubbing off a little bit of that excess paper flip this over onto a cutting board transfer onto the cutting board displace all of the pulp on your cutting board compare these two papers side by side
