Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know - Complementary and Alternative Medicine - What You Need To Know by Rehealthify 175,618 views 9 years ago 2 minutes, 3 seconds - Complementary, and alternative medicine, (CAM) is the term for medical, products and practices that are not part of standard care.

Standard care is what medical doctors, doctors of osteopathy and allied health professionals, such as nurses and physical therapists, practice

Complementary medicine is used together with standard medical care

An example is using acupuncture to help with side effects of cancer treatment

Alternative medicine is used in place of standard medical care

An example is treating heart disease with chelation therapy (which seeks to remove excess metals from the blood) instead of using a standard approach.

Studies are underway to determine the safety and usefulness of many CAM practices

1..Assess your foundations for healthy living: There are good evidence around reducing recurrence and maintaining health during the cancer treatment if you are in good health. Make sure to eat right, exercise and quit smoking.

2..Set specific CAM goals: What are you trying to achieve by using CAM? To support immune system or manage symptoms? It is critical to have your own goals so you can match a CAM therapy that addresses your goal.

3..Seek credible information: 1) Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center (www.mskcc.org); 2) Natural Medicine's Comprehensive Database (and, 3) PubMed (www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed).

4..Ensure the information is applicable to your situation: Once you located credible information, look at the quality of the information and its applicability to you and your situation.

5..Monitor your CAM therapy over time: When you are using a CAM therapy, it is important to monitor it closely. Think about the timeframe, goals, possible side effects and the way to document it so you can share it with your healthcare providers. For more info visit

1..Effects on blood sugar levels: It is important to understand how your CAM therapy can impact other chronic health conditions such as diabetes you may have.

2..Effects on blood thinning: Some CAM products have natural blood thinning effects and if you are already on blood thinners, you need to carefully consider that matter.

3..Anti-hormonal effects: Many natural products can have anti-hormonal effects and this is especially important to consider for men who receive hormone therapy.

4..Natural product number (NPN): This number usually appears on the bottle of a natural product. This number means that it's been assessed by the Health Canada and found to be safe and effective to use under their recommended conditions of use.
